BULLETIN.
LONDON, March 23.—A Rotterdam despatch to the Daily Telegraph says it is reported there that thirty-four members of the American Steamer Healdton were either killed when the vessel was attacked or drowned subsequently. A torpedo which penetrated the engine room is said to have been responsible for the death of thirteen of the men.

LONDON, March 23.—Thirteen members of the American Steamer Healdton's crew have arrived at Ymuiden, Holland. They say the steamer was sunk without warning in the so-called "safety zone" and express the belief that nineteen men aboard the vessel were drowned.

This information is contained in a Reuter despatch from Ymuiden which follows:

"The Steam Trawler Java has arrived here with thirteen members of the Healdton's crew. They say the Healdton, unwarned, was shot into flames by a German submarine in the so-called 'safe zone.'

"Of the crew of 41, probably nineteen men were drowned owing to a sloop capsizing. Two others who jumped also were drowned.

"The Healdton was bound for Rotterdam by way of Bergen with 6,000 tons of petroleum."

Three Boats Launched.
Amsterdam, March 22.—via London, March 23.—The American Steamer Healdton was torpedoed Wednesday evening, according to a Terschelling despatch to the Telegraaf. Three boats were launched, one of which contained eight men, one of the men badly injured, was brought to Terschelling by a torpedo boat. One of the men died on the way. Nothing is known of the other boats.

It is believed that fourteen men were killed by the explosion.

Reports to State Department.
Washington, March 22.—American Consul Mahin at Amsterdam cabled the state department tonight that the American steamer Healdton sunk by a submarine yesterday off Terschelling, Holland, was torpedoed without warning and that twenty of the crew were drowned.

The consul's despatch follows: "Standard Oil Ship Healdton from Philadelphia for Rotterdam, cargo oil, torpedoed without warning 8:15 evening of 21st, 25 miles north of Terschelling, Holland. Twenty of crew drowned. One died of injuries. Others (taken) to North of Holland. Submarine seen after torpedoing. More details to follow."

Sailed From Chester, Pa.
Philadelphia, March 22.—The steamer Healdton sailed from Chester, Pa., on January 26 for Rotterdam with 2,137,711 gallons of refined petroleum valued at $106,886. She was last reported three days later 720 miles east of the Delaware breakwater.

The Healdton owned by the Standard Oil company was commanded by Captain Christopher and carried a crew of 38 men. Her home port was New York.

13 AMERICANS IN CREW

Philadelphia, March 23.—The crew of the Tanker Healdton included thirteen Americans according to the personnel as given out by the shipping commissioner here early today.

ALLEGED GERMAN EMBASSY FINANCED BOMB PLANT

Read Alleged Admission At Trial In New York

Begin Hearing of Six Men Charged
With Having Attempted to Destroy Vessels Sailing from American Ports With Cargoes for the Entente.

New York, March 22.—An alleged admission that money for the establishment of a bomb factory in Hoboken, N. J., was furnished direct from officials of the German embassy at Washington was read today when the trials were begun here of six men charged with having attempted to create a reign of terror on the high seas by destroying vessels sailing from American ports with cargoes for the entente.

The defendants are Captain Charles Von Kleist, chemist accused of having been engaged in making bombs; Karl Schmidt, formerly chief engineer of the Steamship Friedrich DeGrosse; and Frederick Karbade, George Prandel and Wilhelm Paradise, assistant engineers of the same vessel.

Detective Occupies Stand.
How the police trapped the alleged plotters after bomb explosions in 1915 had destroyed vessels and cargoes worth upward of $4,000, was recited to the jury today by Henry Barth, a detective who gained the confidence of Von Kleist by representing himself as an agent of Wolf Von Igel said to have been the head of the German spy system in this country.

Von Igel was an attaché of the German embassy and returned to Germany with Count Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador.

The detective said he telephoned to Von Kleist last April and told him he had been informed Von Kleist had written to Wolf Von Igel.

"I told him he could only see Von Igel through me," declared Barth. "I later met him by appointment and he told me that he and Dr. Walter E. Schele, also a chemist, were partners in the manufacture of fire bombs and dealt also in fertilizer as a blind."

"Schele, Von Kleist told me had received $10,000 from Captain Von Pape of the German embassy to finance the bomb making, but he was in need of more cash."

Exhibit Bombs as Evidence.
Detective marshals brought into the court a trunk full of bombs which were exhibited as evidence against the defendants. The plan is alleged to have been to put bombs either in the holds of vessels about to leave port or to attach them to the rudders. Acids within the instruments were so arranged as to eat their way into contact with each other after the ship was well out of port and cause an explosion. In this way it is claimed, many a fire was kindled on ships bound to England and French ports and much damage was done.

The head of the alleged plotters was said to have been Schele who escaped arrest by flight to Mexico.

COMMISSION ISSUES TWO DRASTIC ORDERS

Directs That Shelled Corn Be Made a Preferred Class of Freight—Gives Instructions as to Distribution of Freight Cars.

Springfield, Ill., March 22.—In two drastic orders issued today, the Illinois Public Utilities commission directed that shelled corn be made a preferred class of freight, and that the distribution of freight cars at various stations in Illinois shall be in proportion to the respective immediate requirements of shippers at the various stations.

The order affecting shelled corn informs railroads that they must devote a sufficient number of cars to ship at least seventy-five per cent of the shelled corn now in country elevators before May 1. This is made necessary, the commission states, because of the approach of the harvesting season during which shelled corn rapidly deteriorates and because large quantities of such grain are crowding the elevators in the state.

The rule prescribed to relieve the car shortage, promulgated today, directs railroads to ascertain the average grain car distribution at all stations for a period of four years past.

AMERICANS LEARN LESSON IN THRIFT

NEW YORK, March 22.—Junk dealers, whose business qualified them as judges, declared today that the results of the war have taught the American people a valuable lesson in thrift. This was emphasized here yesterday at the annual convention of the National Association of Waste Material Dealers.

Soon after the war began the association began a campaign to encourage the use in industry of second hand materials. According to President Louis Birkenstein, the campaign resulted in a big cleanup of old papers, rags, metals and rubber which have either been remanufactured or put to some new use.

DECIDE TO ARM STEAMERS

Tokio, Feb. 28.—Correspondence of The Associated Press—The Japanese navy has definitely decided to arm its fleet of passenger and cargo steamers. The steamers will carry at least one 3-inch gun on the after deck as a means of defense against hostile submarines.

WORD OF MEDIATION OFFER NO SURPRISE

Does Not Affect Plans For Meeting Situation Forced
By U-Boat Warfare

TERMIT GERMAN SCHEME

Would Not Be Considered Unless Less Assaults On American Shipping Stop

PREPARATIONS CONTINUE

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Word that a European neutral might offer mediation to prevent open war between the United States and Germany has come to the administration without causing surprise or in any way affecting the government's plans for meeting the situation forced by submarine ruthlessness. Such a proposal is regarded here as nothing more than another scheme fostered by Germany with the hope of confusing the issue and possibly dividing sentiment in this country while the destruction of American lives and ships on the high seas continues.

Move Not Unexpected.
At the state department today officials would neither deny nor confirm that the government already had been approached on this subject although it was admitted informally that some such move was not unexpected. It is very emphatically stated here no suggestion of mediation or discussion would be considered unless it was accompanied by abandonment of illegal assaults upon American shipping, a course to which there is no reason for believing the imperial government is giving a thought.

The feeling in all quarters here is that the United States has, with infinite patience and forbearance, done everything possible with honor to avoid the virtual state of war now existing thru German aggression. So long as this aggression continues, official say, there is nothing to discuss would be considered unless it was accompanied by measures of defense and no basis exists for discussion.

To Watch Preparations.
During the ten days that must elapse before congress assemblies in response to his call, President Wilson will give close personal attention to the preparations going forward thru the war and navy departments.

He saw no callers today, but was in touch with both of the departments. One of the duties he performed was the signing of a formal program suspending the 8-hour law as applied to plants engaged on naval work, a step authorized by congress as a part of the general plans for speeding up construction.

Secretary Baker, as chairman of the council of National Defense, today called the council and its advisory committee of heads of great industrial concerns to meet here Saturday to discuss how much more work is necessary to put the country in a state of adequate preparedness for defense. The council already has accomplished much toward mobilization of all the nation's resources and these results will be surveyed at Saturday's meeting. Gompers as chairman of the council's committee on labor, issued invitations to a large number of workmen, employers and scientists to accept membership on the committee and attend its first meeting April 2. Additional efforts to stimulate recruiting for the navy were launched during the day. The response to the recruiting service during the last few months has been the best on record, but Secretary Daniels is determined to fill up promptly to the full authorized strength of 74,500 men.

To Place Orders Saturday

Word was received that every shipbuilding plant capable of building destroyers would be represented at the department Saturday when a great number of building orders will be placed. The department plans to build to the full capacity of the yards, and the number of destroyers to be ordered can be determined only when that capacity is known. A standard type boat, the thirty five knot vessel designed last year will be ordered to hasten construction. The newly created compensation board of the navy will discuss details of the destroyer orders with the builders and determine the steps to be taken. The board also will hold its first conference on Saturday with the builders recently awarded contracts for battle cruisers.

The department is receiving an encouraging number of communications from former sailors saying that they will present themselves for service in the event of war. Most of these men have not entered any

URGENT UNITED STATES TO WAR ON GERMANY

Action Taken at Patriotic Mass Meeting at
New York City

ELIHU ROOT PRESIDES
Great Crowd Cheers Chairman
When He Declares Time
Has Come to Act

SING PATRIOTIC HYMNS

NEW YORK, March 22.—Led by more than forty patriotic and civic organizations and college clubs, a crowd that filled Madison Square Garden tonight enthusiastically pledged itself to the support of President Wilson and urged that there be no more delay upon the part of the United States in entering the European war against Germany.

Root Presides at Meeting.
Among the speakers were Elihu Root, who presided; Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton University; Charles S. Fairchild, who was secretary of the treasury under President Cleveland, and Mayor Mitchell. United States Senator Oliver James of Kentucky, Joseph H. Choate and many others of prominence were present.

When Mr. Root, opening the meeting, declared the time had come for the country to act, the great crowd arose, cheering and waving small American flags. This demonstration was repeated time and again and it was with difficulty that Mr. Root and the other speakers, made themselves heard.

Thousands of voices joined in singing the Star Spangled Banner and other patriotic airs, while the various college clubs interrupted the meeting at intervals by giving their yells.

The Sons of the American Revolution marched in, led by a fife and drum corps. They were followed by bluejackets from the New York navy yard, the white and blue clad boys of the Junior patriots of America and the members of the home defense league wearing their new uniforms.

Address of Chairman.
Mr. Root said in part:

"We come not to find fault or to criticize. We come to turn our faces toward the government of our choice the government, the president and the congress on whom weigh the terrible burdens of decision and action in the issue of peace or war and in the terrible pursuit of that freedom which can be maintained, it seems now, only by war. In this government by the people it must be the people themselves who act thru the president and the congress."

"We did think a few years ago that the reign of law had come into the world; we did think that the rules of law that all civilized nations had agreed to be bound by were a protection to the peaceful and the weak; we did think that the faith of treaties was a protection but we have had a sad awakening. Neither the rules of law, nor the teaching of civilizations, nor the restraints of religion stand in the way of those powers that are now seeking in the world with fire and sword, what they call liberty of the National evolution the liberty to send their increasing populations and seize the territory and subjugate the inhabitants of other lands."

"No more the protection of treaty or of law guards the people of America round about. The doctrine that a state can do no wrong the doctrine that a state is entitled to take what its interest requires with the strong arm in hand, has been declared, and is supported by one half the military power of the world and if the present war in Europe ends without a victory over the nations which are declaring and acting upon that hateful doctrine, there will be no peace and safety for free democracies in this world except all free countries be turned into armed camps."

Rush Several out of Garden.
When Mr. Root asserted that a peaceable meeting such as the one tonight was possible only because this country was protected by the armies and navies of the entente allies a young man in the audience shouted that the speaker's utterance was an untruth. Instantly there was an uproar and the disturber was rushed out of the garden. Several others who tried to interrupt the meeting also were put out.

"The question is not whether we shall submit, but whether the world shall be made to understand that America with its great traditions with all the courage and the spirit of the greatest free democracy has the power and courage to defend herself," Mr. Root continued. "I say that upon the issue of the war in Europe hangs the question whether

HOUSE ADOPTS WAR RESOLUTION

State Would Stand Firmly
For Conflict For Extension of Liberty

WILL GO TO SENATE
Vote On Measure Introduced
by Representative Shurtleff
Is Unanimous

OFFER PENSION BILL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 22.—In event the United States is drawn into war, Illinois would stand firmly for a conflict in behalf of smaller nations and the extension of liberty, Illinois house of representatives determined today in adopting joint resolution upholding the doctrine of a league to enforce peace. This resolution will go for concurrence to the senate which already has before it one resolution urging the United States to take the initiative in forming such a league.

Adopt Measure Unanimously.
The resolution introduced by Representative Edward D. Shurtleff of Marengo, chairman of the Republican steering committee, was unanimously adopted. The senate resolution by Senator Dailey of Peoria, was referred to the legislative committee.

"In offering this resolution," Mr. Shurtleff said, "I not only want to urge the state to go on record in accord with the president's address of January 22 favoring a league to enforce peace, but to urge that if the United States is plunged into war, it is the hope of Illinois that our treasures and the blood of our citizens may be expended to extend liberty over the governments of the whole world."

Text of Resolution.
The text follows: "Be it resolved by the house of representatives, the senate concurring therein, that we are in full accord and unqualifiedly endorse the plea directed to the warring nations of Europe, in behalf of smaller nations, made by President Wilson in an address to the senate of the United States on January 22, 1917."

"Resolved, that the following sentiments, so finely and nobly expressed therein, are worthy of the best traditions of the country. 'No more can last or ought to last which does not recognize and accept the principle that governments derive all their just powers from the consent of the governed * * *. No nation should seek to extend its policy over any other nation or people. But every people should be left free to determine its own policy, its own development, unhindered, until threatened, unafraid, the little along with the great and powerful * * *. I am proposing government by the consent of the governed.'"

"Be it further resolved: 'That in behalf of the people of this great commonwealth we hereby pledge our moral support to the president of the United States in thus presenting to the world the just rights of Belgium, Ireland, Poland and all other small nations, to the end that the peaceful conference which must follow the great pending conflict, the rights of such nations be presented and given just recognition.'"

Would Provide State Police.
Bills were introduced in the Illinois general assembly today which, if passed, would permit state police to take control at any time the governor believed local police officials or state's attorneys were delinquent in their duties. The bills propose creation of a state superintendent of police and deputies, limited to twenty.

Old age pensions in Illinois were proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Ferdinand A. Garesche of Madison.

Persons over 70 years old and whose income is under $150 a year, would be entitled to weekly pensions under the bill. The maximum allowed would be $2.50 a week and the minimum 50 cents a week, on a scale graduated according to the pensioner's income. General supervision would be under a central pension board, consisting of the governor and other state officers. Each county would have a local board of three persons to exercise local supervision.

Representative Frisch, of Sangamon county, introduced a bill to erect an $850,000 centennial memorial building on the capitol grounds.

Pass Bad Check Bill.
The Bippus bad check bill, proposing that persons who draw checks without sufficient funds in the bank to meet them be subject to a fine up to $1,000 or to one year's imprisonment, was passed by a vote of 105 to 18.

PERMITS CONVICT TO SEE DYING WIFE

Gov. Whitman Grants Dying Request of Mrs. Matilda Quinn.

New York, March 22.—The dying request of Mrs. Matilda Quinn who is in a hospital here, to see her husband, John Quinn, serving a sentence of seven years in Sing Sing prison for burglary, was granted today by Governor Whitman. In custody of a prison keeper, Quinn was rushed in an automobile from the Grand Central Station to the hospital where the woman eagerly awaited his arrival.

As the convict entered the hospital ward, he paused, scanned the faces of the patients hurriedly, then bounded forward as he saw the outstretched arms of his wife. Soon he was kneeling at her bedside and nurses screened them from the gaze of the other patients.

Quinn's six year old daughter who was two years old when he went to prison was brought from another ward to join her father and mother in their last meeting. The child had remained at her mother's bedside all night and was so fatigued this morning she had to be attended by a physician.

PEARY URGES BUILDING OF POWERFUL AIR FLEET

Speaks Under Auspices of National Special Aid Society

President of National Aerial Coast Patrol Commission Declares Command of the Sea and Land are Worthless Without Command of the Air.

Urges Powerful Air Fleet.
Admiral Peary, who is chairman of the National Aerial Coast Patrol commission urged the upbuilding of a powerful air fleet. He advocated the establishment of a department of aeronautics with a place in the president's cabinet, the creation of an aviation class with thousands and thousands of young men, a comprehensive aero coast defense system and the establishment of a great industry which would be to the air service in this country what the Krupps are to Germany in their field.

He suggested a great central aeronautic manufacturing plant located in the interior of the country "where it can be protected to the last ditch. Leaders across the water who are in the thick of things, men on whose shoulders rests the responsibility for the very existence of their respective nations," said Rear Admiral Peary, "are saying publicly and officially in thoroughly considered words. First, that the time is near when the air service of a country will be more vital to its safety than its army and navy combined."

"Second, that the decision in the present war may come in the air."

"Third, that every country will be obliged to have a separate independent air service by the sheer necessity which knows no law, regards no precedent, fears no government. The very growth and developments of air work will force such separate department."

Cites Case of Bulgaria.
"Little Bulgaria," he continued, "with an area slightly greater than the state of Maine and a population slightly less than Massachusetts, is said to have some 300 airplanes."

"The personnel of the French air service is said to number more officers and men than our entire navy. Germany is said to have over ten thousand airplanes in commission."

Laying stress on the imperative need for a powerful coast defense system to give warning of the approach of the foe or to attack a hostile fleet, Admiral Peary said:

"At the present time, four foreign powers, probably six, have the men, the machines, the experience and expert knowledge that would enable any one of them by issuing an order today to destroy Washington or any of our other great coastal cities from the air in a single night two weeks from now. We have neither airplanes nor dirigibles, nor anti-aircraft guns, nor any other means of preventing such destruction."

The airplane with its speed and range of vision Admiral Peary pointed out, "is the quickest and cheapest antidote for the submarine."

"The nation should spend, he said, $50,000,000 a year on its air service."

MAKE USE OF THEM.

One of the most interesting statements regarding the newspaper situation in England is to the effect that the newspapers of the big cities be combined in order that the reporters and editors might be released as far as possible for military duties. This would put the boys to the front in the dead earnest, and it would give the editors who all along have professed themselves to know better what ought to be done and more about the military tactics that should be used than the generals in charge, the long wished for chance to show their genius as strategists. Possibly the same opportunity may be given to newspapermen in this country soon. Won't it be glorious.

AUTOS AND AIDS.

Perhaps Sometime, somebody will attempt to analyze the advertising element in the selling of automobiles. If that is done there will be revealed the very strongest argument for advertising that has as yet been warranted by any set of facts relating to its accomplishment. When it is considered that in the agricultural state of Iowa there is now one automobile for each eight inhabitants, in California one for every group of 12 1-2 inhabitants and when it is further considered that advertising is the only real selling expedient that has entered into the distribution of automobiles, it is seen that there is a field revealed that courts the attention of the advertising analytical student.

MILLIONS FOR HUMANITY.

The Rockefeller Foundation according to the Chicago Post, has announced that during the year ending Dec. 31, 1916, it appropriated $8,249,088.96 for various humanitarian causes. This is benevolence on a big scale, and the distribution of the vast sum is evidence of a discriminating but catholic sympathy. More than 25 per cent of it was devoted to war relief, or $2,250,000. It is natural that the extraordinary necessities of stricken lands overseas should receive the largest single appropriation.

Among other causes that benefited were such varied interests as the campaign against hook-worm in Latin-American countries; medical education in China; the New York Palisades Park commission; the general education board; John Hopkins University; the New York committee on infantile paralysis; and a long list of religious, charitable and civic organizations.

RUSSIA SOAKED AND RUSSIA SOBER.

The difference between Russia soaked in vodka and Russia sober is shown with great impressiveness by the revolution in that country. Americans who have read Russian books by Tolstoy, Dostoevsky and others have learned to regard the Russians as a nation of drinkers, in all the stories persons were drinking vodka. Few of them drank harpless wine or refreshing beer, saw the New York Telegraph.

The stories took readers into great assembly rooms, where everyone was drunk and into cellars where men and women sprawled on the floor, tipsy from strong drink. In any book of travels in Russia the passengers, we are told, left the train at a station for "refreshments." These consisted of large cups of tea and a small glass of vodka always was poured into each cup.

Russia was drunk. And Russia drunk made no effective resistance against tyranny. The men and women knew they were being wronged, oppressed, ill-treated, beaten, sent to Siberia for no crime—and they lacked the strength, mental and physical, to fight against tyranny. They endured their wrongs in a sullen way.

Two years ago the use of vodka was forbidden in Russia. Russia sober saw the light and realized her strength. They thought for themselves and overthrew a dynasty. Perhaps Russia, without the poison, will become a republic. At any rate, it is at this minute under the rule of the people of the country. A tyrant cannot oppress a sober people.

THE AUTO AND THE ROADS.

While we have not heard of any great amount of enthusiasm among automobile owners in this city regarding the $60,000,000 hard roads proposition, yet it has many advocates. Some who oppose the measure ask why the auto owner should have his license fee doubled for something that largely benefits others, and he wants to know where these hard roads that one class alone is to pay for will be located. It will not make the property benefited pay a part, he asks. But if the proceeds of his doubled license fee is devoted solely to improvement of roads the auto owner will not be seriously hurt. He gets the pleasure and the saving in wear and tear of his machine in good roads at all times. If he refuses to endorse the scheme the chances are they will double his license fees anyway. Car owners in many other states have to pay more than do we in Illinois for license. We can assume this condition will not be permitted to continue indefinitely.

In this state are a hundred or a thousand schemes for which more money is wanted; the backers of some of these hobbies are vociferous in their demands. The answer made them now is that the state has not any more money to spend on enterprises, however worthy. But we know it will be only a short time until these hobby boosters point out that car owners should be made to pay more. You see it is the other fellow's money, and usually they are liberal with this.

We shall have to pay more for a license to run a car. The best we can do is to make sure in advance that all the money so paid shall be used for road improvement.

WAR'S DURATION.

So many prophecies have gone wrong as to the duration of the war, that it is hardly exaggeration to say that no prediction has gone right. The trouble is that the experts have been trying to draw exact conclusions when dealing with incalculable elements. The length of this war, as of any war, may depend upon factors not foreseen by the wisest generals and shrewdest statesmen.

Germany has professed to think that its ruthlessness will shorten the war. This, indeed, was her excuse for the unrestricted use of the submarine. But Germany also ought to let her great dash into Poland and her thrusts into Serbia and Roumania would also shorten the war. They have done no such thing. These merely increased the determination of her enemies and set them a greater task. Germany's victories in the East have indefinitely prolonged the war. A peace that would have been possible at the beginning of 1915 is impossible now.

The invasion of Belgium was expected to shorten the war. Under the circumstances it seemed the quickest route to Paris. It was no the subjugation of France that Germany sought, but the prevention of the possibility of French aid being given to Russia, Germany's natural foe.

It is plain enough now that had Germany kept off of French and Belgian soil and entrenched herself on the western frontier for defensive purposes the war would have been localized and in all probability shortened. Every German success has been a stumbling block in the way of peace. Her penetration of Zeppelin raids on England helped fill up the English armies.

In the same way some of the things accomplished by the Allies which passed as successes have counted against them. There was the French dash, for instance, at the very beginning of the war. It instead of relying upon open brilliant field maneuvering the French before the Marne, had dug themselves in, they would have held more of their soil.

Will the entrance of the United States into the war tend to shorten it? This would seem to depend upon the kind of service we render. The Allies greatest need is money, credit, food and munitions. If we organize effectively to supply these we shall be rendering the greatest aid, says the Deatur Herald.

It is essential that we increase our fighting strength on both sea and land, but this is not now the prime requisite. The one thing that America must do is to see to it that France and England do not suffer want.

Germany admittedly played her last card when she started in to starve England. She will throw up the game the quicker when she realizes that her policy is doomed to failure.

Distinction

But little time has journeyed by, since he who owned a motor car had won distinction fair and high; we all admired him from afar. We may have said, when in his pride, he followed his triumphant way, that he was putting on more side than one trail mortal should display. But we admired him, just the same, and raised our lids at his approach; for he had scaled the heights of fame, and owned so glittering a coach. But now the man who has no car creates excitement in our town; he is unique—so few there are who do not hold their motors down. Men say of him, "I'll bet my life he likes a car, as much as we; but he would make a tinhorn bid for cheap john notoriety. He'll run for alderman this year, and try to get the public vote, by claiming he's the one man here who doesn't own or drive a boat." The Tattooed Man has had his day, the Bearded Lady's lost her goat, the Dog-faced Boy must now make way for him who doesn't own a Boat.

RECALLS VISIT TO GRAND DUKE'S ESTATE

John W. Groves Who Spent Two Years in Russia Watches Developments There With Interest.

John W. Groves is one Jacksonville man who read about the recent political changes in Russia with special interest. During 1913 and 1914 Mr. Groves was a resident of Odessa as a representative of the Parlin & Orendorff Co. of Canton. While there on several occasions he visited the vast estate of Grand Duke Nicholas. The duke has thousands upon thousands of acres of farm land, which he purchased with his own fortune. He owns one town where most of the workers on the farms are housed. A school, church and hospital are maintained and the improvements are quite modern by comparison with most of the rural districts in Russia.

Operations on the farm are of such size that in the town are machine, harness and carpenter shops, employing a large number of men, and all of their work is connected with the farms. In addition there is an experimental station where men with scientific training are in charge and the grand duke is making an effort to apply to his own country the best principles of agriculture known to the world over. Mr. Groves was on the farm a number of times to demonstrate the use of certain kinds of American machinery. Among other articles he sold a number of plows for use on this farm.

"Blind Justice"

A powerful drama of the vengeance of outraged manhood against the society whose only god is the law.

Written, Produced by and Featuring

Benjamin Christie

Author and Star of the Tremendous Screen Success
"Sealed Orders."

Supported by KATHERINE SANDERS.

In reviewing "Blind Justice," "Wid" said:

"This production is not only distinctive, but is well nigh perfect as to story construction, artistry of direction, and mastery of characterization."

"This film justifies your standing on your hind legs and making a lot of noise. I can absolutely guarantee to you that you are safe in doing it. Explain that it is a human drama with a fine element of suspense in an artistic atmosphere, with a wonderfully appealing central characterization. Play up Mr. Christie. You cannot say anything too strong regarding him, because I guarantee that every member of your audience will be duly impressed by his work."

THE FARMS OF AMERICA will be called upon as never before to help feed Europe.

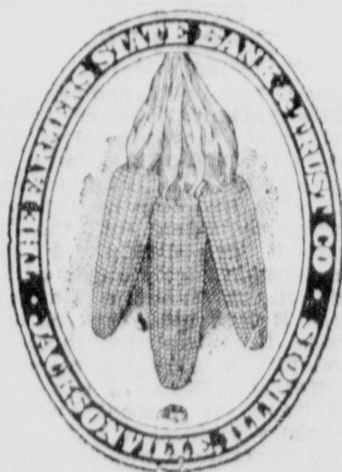

THE DEMAND FOR FARM PRODUCTS will be sure and strong for several years to come. American farms may be pushed to the limit to supply this demand.

PREPARE FOR THE 1915 HARVEST. Careful seed selection, thorough tillage and cultivation and good judgment will bring increased crops. More intensive cultivation, quite as much as increased acreage, will bring farm prosperity.

DIVERSIFY YOUR CROPS. Experience proves that a one-crop country cannot continue permanently prosperous. Raise more live stock. Plant more legumes. Cows, cattle, hogs, poultry, alfalfa, clover and soy beans mean ready money and fat bank accounts as well as more fertile fields.

DON'T SPECULATE on the fluctuations in the prices of farm products or on the other fellow's game. EXPAND ALONG LEGITIMATE LINES

MORGAN COUNTY with its fertile fields and intelligent farmers was never in a more secure position or one that promises more for the future, if the opportunities are embraced.

REMAND PORTER TO JAIL WITHOUT BOND

TEMPLE, Texas, March 22.—Will Porter, the young married man arrested early today in connection with the finding of the body of Miss Emma Staley in the Leon river, was given a preliminary hearing tonight and remanded to jail without bond. Testimony before the coroner's jury today indicated, according to the police that the young woman and Porter were supposed to have left recently for a sanitarium in South Texas.

After an examination of the body it was said, Miss Staley died after her body was thrown into the river. There were bruises on her head and body. Porter denied having been with Miss Staley on the night she was last seen.

DENY PETITION FOR CITIZENSHIP

HELENA, Mont., March 22.—Eugene Gaenzle of East Helena was denied citizenship papers here today by Judge R. Lee Wood. Action on Gaenzle's petition for citizenship was postponed last October because of a protest by East Helena citizens who alleged Gaenzle cursed the American flag and threatened to blow up a local newspaper office, because criticism toward the German undersea campaign. The petition for citizenship was dismissed today on application of R. W. Thomas, United States naturalization agent.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

Haste continues to be made throughout the country in order to bring it into a state of preparedness to meet aggression by Germany on American lives and commerce. Nothing new has been suggested here today except the expectation in Berlin Wednesday that Germany would declare war against the United States in forty-eight hours. It is stated however, that the German imperial chancellor left Berlin that day for general headquarters for a conference with Emperor William and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg on important questions concerning foreign policies.

The Germans, according to the latest British and French official communications apparently are ending their retreat along the front in France and are preparing to give battle everywhere to their oncoming foes. Paris reports that between the Somme and the Oise the Germans have made successive violent attacks against the French troops, holding the east bank of the St. Quentin canal, but the French machine guns have stopped them. Attacks were also delivered by the Germans near LaFere and between the Laon road and the river Aisne but the French barrage broke them up.

London reports that from the south of Arras to the west of St. Quentin, along the entire British front, the Germans are stiffening their resistance increasingly.

The only advance by the entente against the French front is claimed by the French, who crossed the Ailette river at several points.

The communication of the Berlin war office asserts that on both sides of the Somme and Oise rivers engagements between Germans and entente advance detachments have resulted favorably for the Germans.

There has been a renewal of activity on the Russian front in the Vilna region. Here the Germans made an advance over a front of two and a half miles east of Lida and captured 225 Russians and a number of guns.

Petrograd admits the advance but says later that the territory was retaken. In Galicia near Brody German attacks have been repulsed.

The Turks in Persia are still in retreat before the Russians says Petrograd. Nothing new has come there concerning the operations of the British against the Ottomans north and northeast of Bagdad.

The entente allies are still on the offensive against the forces of the central powers in Macedonia, but Berlin says attacks north of Monastir have been repulsed. The usual artillery duels and minor infantry attacks continue in the Austro-Italian theater.

Announcement is made by the German admiralty that the German raider Moewe has returned to a home port after a second cruise in the Atlantic. It is stated that the vessel during this cruise "captured" shipping aggregating 123,100 tons.

ASKS FOR DATA ON MOBILIZATION POINTS

General Barry at Chicago Sends Order to Adjutant General Dickinson.

Springfield, Ill., March 22.—Adjutant General Dickinson today received an order from General T. H. Barry, commander of the Central Department at Chicago, instructing him to forward immediately all information in his possession regarding facilities of mobilization points in Illinois. The order called for information as to water supply, sewage, shelter, store house arrangements and railroad and telegraph communication.

General Dickinson at once set about furnishing the data, which is kept on file in the office here. He said he had no knowledge as to where mobilization of state troops would take place if a call were issued by the war department.

Work continued today by the large corps of clerks and stenographers in preparing requisitions for supplies which will make possible the recruiting of the Illinois Guard to full war strength.

The office of General Dickinson was crowded with persons from all sections of the state offering themselves for service or to assist in any way possible in making ready the resources of Illinois for military activity.

Profiting by the lessons learned in the recent mobilization of Illinois troops for Mexican border service, every detail which might contribute to speed action in bringing together the 9,000 and more state guardsmen is being looked after, even to signing beforehand of transportation blanks which will be ready for filling in in case of emergency.

FOOD QUESTION PRESSING IN ENGLAND

Expect New and Drastic Steps on the Part of the Food Controller in a Few Days.

London, March 22.—The food question is pressing daily with increasing stringency on the British public, and, according to authoritative reports, a few days will see new and drastic steps on the part of the present food controller, Lord Davenport, to meet the situation and prevent exploitation of the public by traders. The controller announced in the house of lords today that although voluntary rationing had brought about excellent results, much more in this direction was required; otherwise, it might be necessary to resort to compulsory rationing which would be a national calamity.

According to an unofficial report the government intends to introduce two meatless and potatoless days weekly in all restaurants and hotels and to forbid more than five ounces of uncooked meat to be served for each person.

With regard to hoarding, it is said the police will be empowered to search private houses and if more than a fortnight's supply of sugar on a basis of a weekly allowance of three quarters of a pound per capita is found the persons so hoarding will be severely punished.

GIRLS KILL EACH OTHER IN CAFE

Hold Revolvers Pointed at Each Other's Temple and Fire, Both Dropping Dead.

Portsmouth, N. H., March 22.—Two young women, held revolvers pointed at each other's temple and fired, both dropping dead in a booth in a cafe here tonight. They had previously registered at the Rockingham Hotel as Ethel Stanton and Rose King of Westley, Mass. In a traveling bag left at the hotel by the King girl was a letter telling of an agreement between the two girls to commit suicide and asking that they be buried together. The letter signed "Peggy," was addressed to Mrs. E. L. Spaulding, Newton Centre.

The police communicated with Mrs. Spaulding and learned that "Rose King" was her daughter. A note addressed to C. S. Malsbury, Johnson Building, Cincinnati, was found in the Stanton girl's bag.

The girls, each about 20 years old, had been in the booth for more than two hours before other diners were startled to hear shots. They rushed to the booth and found the girls lying dead on the floor.

Prominent in Athletics
Newton, Mass., March 22.—Miss Peggy Spaulding who was shot at Portsmouth, N. H., tonight, was a graduate of the Newton High School. She was prominent in athletics, having served as captain of the high school girl's hockey team.

TO CONSTRUCT MERCHANT SHIPS

London, March 22.—The government has arranged for the construction of 100 standard merchant ships in three sizes of 18,000, 5,000 and 4,000 tons respectively, according to a statement made in the house of commons today.

PLEADS FOR HIGHER RAIL FREIGHT RATES

Head of Pennsylvania Railroad Appears Before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Washington, March 22.—Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania railroad told the interstate commerce commission today that the rising cost of all commodities had affected the railroads to such an extent that the situation was "tense" and that immediate relief should be given the roads, by higher freight rates if they were to continue to render safe and efficient service. Increased cost of all supplies, Mr. Rea said, was reflected in prices paid by the railroads for fuel, equipment and construction material in addition to heavier payrolls resulting from the Adamson decision. Speaking for the chief bituminous coal carrying roads of the east, he urged the commission to dispense with its usual suspension of proposed increases of from five to fifteen cents per ton on coal from eastern fields to Atlantic and Great Lakes ports, and to authorize the rates at once.

The proposal to increase rates on bituminous coal, he intimated, is the first step in a movement for a revision of freight rates generally in order that the railroads may yield a fair profit to holders of their securities.

Mr. Rea was spokesman for the presidents of the seven chief roads involved in the application to increase coal rates, including the New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, Chesapeake & Ohio and Western Maryland.

In support of his contention that higher prices of supplies justify higher rates, Mr. Rea declared that the higher price of coal alone increased the fuel bill of the seven roads $37,000,000, that equipment had risen fifty per cent, steel bridge material 148 per cent, steel plates 244 per cent, and other supplies in proportion.

The hearing will continue tomorrow.

branch of the naval service because they have married and do not want to be called to the colors for any but an actual war emergency.

The only army order given out today was the recall of the 22nd infantry from the border assigned to Governor's Island, N. Y. The regiment is destined to be used in connection with spring training, in camp work and a regiment also will be sent to the central department for that purpose. The 22nd has been under canvass practically continually since early in 1911 when it was called out for border service. Its service in the field has been more continuous than that of any other infantry unit.

OFFERS TO TRAIN WOMEN IN FIRST AID

Bureau of Mines Preparing to do its Bit for National Defense.

Washington, March 22.—The bureau of mines is preparing to do its bit for national defense by opening to the wives and daughters of miners an opportunity to train themselves under expert instruction for first aid work.

The bureau maintains eight first aid cars for emergency work in mine accidents and for some time has offered a course of first aid training to miners. In order to set an example all of the women connected with the bureau here enlisted today and took their first lesson in the training course.

The bureau's eight cars are scattered thru the mining districts and all of their time not occupied with relief work is devoted now to training miners in first aid methods. About 60,000 men have been trained since the service was created. Those who complete the course hereafter will be given certificates both by the bureau and by the Red Cross.

UNABLE TO LOCATE HOUSE MINORITY LEADER

WASHINGTON, March 22.—There was much speculation at the capital tonight over the whereabouts of Representative Mann, the Republican floor leader of the house who started on a vacation trip without leaving his address before President Wilson advanced the date of the extra session of congress two weeks. Mr. Mann's secretary said nothing had been heard from him since the new call, but both the secretary and Republican house employees seemed untroubled in confidence that the minority leader would be back at his post when the time came for the convening of congress.

GUARD ORGANIZATIONS TO BE REPRESENTED

NEW YORK, March 21.—Assurances have been received from the militia organizations of forty-four states that representatives will be sent to the national defense convention to be held in New York city next week under the auspices of the National Guard association of the United States it was announced tonight. The executive committee of the association gave out a statement in which it was said that at the convention it is expected there will be developed a gigantic plan for recruiting the National Guard to several times its present strength and still more important to provide adequate equipment and training.

FIFTH IN FAMILY DIES.
Carey, Idaho, March 22.—Samuel P. Richards died today of poisoning, his death making a total of five in the same family within a week, all victims of bella donna root, canned by mistake with spinach greens in the Richards kitchen last fall and eaten for dinner by the family on March 15.

FUNERALS

Henry

John Christopher Henry, son of William T. and Mary Henry, was born February 3, 1853, and departed this life at 5 o'clock a. m., Friday, March 16, at the age of 64 years, 1 month and 13 days. He was connected with the Youngblood Baptist church, of which he was a faithful member until the time of his death.

Deceased was united in marriage to Miss Adeline Starnes February 7, 1877. To this union was born five children, Lucella, wife of Robert Henry, Ernest, Rena, wife of Edwin Scott, Ernest and Myrtle, wife of Fletcher Seymour, all of Nortonville, Mo. He is survived by his wife, five children and four grandchildren. One grandchild, Edwin Russell Henry, preceded him in death some years ago. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. John Waters of Greene county, and two half-brothers, Samuel and Edward, both of Nortonville. Mr. Henry held the esteem of a wide circle of friends because of his honest and upright mode of living.

The funeral was held from Youngblood Baptist church at 10 o'clock Sunday, May 18, Rev. Roy March officiating. Music was furnished by the choir of the church. The many floral offerings were cared for by Mrs. Hattie Henry and Miss Inez Grider. Interment was made in Youngblood cemetery, the bearers being John B. Hough, William Hemmigh, Thomas Winters, James Longman, Thomas Barker and Elijah Bacon.

Burkey

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Burkey were held Thursday morning at 2:30 o'clock from the Church of Our Savior the R. C. E. F. Formaz officiating. The burial was made in Calvary cemetery, three sons and three grandsons of the deceased serving as bearers.

URGE UNITED STATES TO WAR ON GERMANY

America shall, at the close of that war, be turned into one armed camp or whether America shall be a subject nation. There is no nation on earth—not England, nor France, nor Belgium, nor Italy, nor Russia—with a greater stake in the success of the allies in this war against German militarism than the United States.

"Every American, every true American heart, could respond with joy and its sorrow to the feeling that if we enter this war to do our part toward bringing about victory that is so important to us, we shall be fighting over again the battle of the American Democracy, the Democracy of England, the Democracy of France, the Democracy of Italy, and now, God be praised, the great Democracy of Russia."

States Price of Peace is War.

In opening his address Dr. Hibbin said:

"I am here tonight as a pacifist. I believe in peace at any price and the price at the present time is war."

Continuing he said: "There is a time when the only peace that is worth fighting for is that peace of conscience, the consciousness that we as a people are not cowards, the consciousness that we have raised our voice and our power against great wrongs and great injustices and that is the peace we called on to fight for at the present time. The question has been much discussed of late, whether a nation ought ever to go into war. That question is not before us tonight because war has come to us, and the question for every individual American citizen is what are we going to do about it? Are we relying upon the faint and yet fond expectation that in some way the submarines will be driven by the British navy from under the seas and that the French line will strike thru the German line into Germany before we are brought into immediate danger? We have waited long enough. Now is the time for action."

"Are we as Americans degenerate? Has the manhood of our race run out?"

He was answered by cries: "No, never."

Roosevelt Urges Action.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt sent a letter in which he urged "instant and effective action" against Germany. After enumerating numerous "overt acts of war" against this country, the former president said:

"Unless in the words of Abraham Lincoln, we are degenerate whose manhood has run out, we shall strike hard and effectively in response to these brutal and unprovoked injuries. Unless we do so we shall show ourselves unworthy to be the heirs of the steadfast soldiers of Washington, unworthy to claim kinship with the men of high soul, who under the banners of Grant and of Lee proved their truth by their endeavor."

Colonel Roosevelt asserted the country now was at war and added that the only question was "whether we shall make war valiantly or make war feebly."

Charles S. Fairchild, who was secretary of the treasury under President Cleveland, told the audience that we should take our place beside those peoples that have fought many traditions for all that is best in our methods and ideals, beside those who are fighting our battle.

Declares U. S. Must Help.
"We must help," declared Mr. Fairchild. "What an hour would be that when a great division of patriotic soldiers from our land marched up to that long battle line in France under the stars and stripes, greeted by Britain and the Marcellais answering with America and the Star Spangled Banner, by that ex-president of our whose name you know so well!"

"Such another would be when from over the Pacific another great division marched to the front in Russia, sent by the oldest to the youngest democracy to help save both from the dreadful foe of all democracies."

Resolutions were adopted calling upon congress as soon as assembled to declare that by the acts of Germany, a state of war does now exist between that country and the United States. The resolutions approved by President Wilson's action in severing diplomatic relations with Germany and of his decision to arm American vessels and summon congress in extra session.

They also urged immediate passage of a bill for universal military training and added that "we call upon our government for prompt, vigorous and courageous leadership in the immediate mobilizing of the entire naval, military and industrial strength of the nation including the augmentation of our army and navy for the effective protection of American rights and the faithful discharge of America's duties in the present crisis."

ANNIVERSARY OF "ESTILL'S DEFEAT"

Mt. Sterling, Ky., March 22.—Today is the 135th anniversary of the battle between Capt. James Estill, of Estill's Station, and a party of Wyandotte Indians. In this county, which will ever be memorable in the history in Kentucky as the scene of "Estill's Defeat." As history records 135 years ago today twenty-five Wyandotte Indians, the bravest and fiercest of all the Indian tribes, seized Estill's Station, on the south bank of the Kentucky river and having killed and scalped Mrs. Innes, a daughter of Captain Innes, and destroyed the cattle and other stock the Indians retreated. Capt. Estill with a party of twenty-five, started immediate pursuit, following the Indians from Estill county to Montgomery county, and came upon them as they crossed Hinkston Creek, one-half mile below this city. The battle that ensued was one of the bloodiest in the history of Indian warfare. Nearly all of the participants, both whites and Indians, were killed.

PLANTED POTATOES

Thomas Barber residing two miles north of the city has already planted two acres of potatoes of the Early Triumph and Early Ohio varieties. Last fall he hauled a large quantity of manure on the land and plowed under the fertilizer and this spring the soil was in fine condition for business. He scratched it a little and then with his horse power potato planter soon had the patch seeded.

MORTUARY

Braner.

Walter E. Braner died at the home of his mother, Mrs. Hannah Braner, west of Arcadia, Thursday forenoon at 11:50 o'clock, of tuberculosis. Deceased was born April 14, 1886, and for several years had been in failing health.

The brothers and sisters surviving are Mrs. Newton Moss, Jacksonville; Mrs. Othie Holt, Concord; Newell P. Braner, at home, and Charles O. Braner, Arcadia. One sister, Mrs. Fred Ginder, preceded the brother in death. The young man had spent the greater part of his life in the Grand chapel neighborhood. His friends were many and all who had come to know him held Mr. Braner in high esteem.

The funeral will be held Saturday forenoon at 11 o'clock at Arcadia church. Elder Baxter Hale will be in charge and burial will be made in Arcadia cemetery.

Wray.

M. K. Wray passed away at the family residence, 356 Sharp street, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, after an illness of long duration. Mr. Wray was born in Anderson, Ind., in 1832, and was married to Jenninah Oldridge in 1866 at Onarga, Ill. To this union there were born four children, of which the surviving three are Mrs. H. C. Breckenridge, Chicago; Mrs. H. L. Wagner, Rockford, Ill., and Miss Chloe Wray, at home. Mrs. Wray and one child preceded the father in death, the wife passing away in 1876.

Mr. Wray was a member of Co. B, 113th Ill. Volunteers, seeing three years' service in the war of the rebellion. He came to Jacksonville thirty-three years ago and has lived a life of unvarying devotion to family and friends.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the undertaking parlors of Williams & Co. Further arrangements will be made known today.

Campbell.

Mrs. Otis Hoffman has received a telegram announcing the death of Mrs. D. J. Campbell at her home in Denver, Colo. Mrs. Campbell was the mother of Mrs. Neil B. Train of this city.

Butler.

Funeral services for George E. Butler were held from Second Christian church Thursday afternoon in charge of the Rev. Raphael Hancock. The flowers were cared for by Florence Johnson and Ethel Wallace. Burial was in Jacksonville cemetery, the bearers being Walter Jordan, Earl Carpenter, Carry Wheeler, Allen Timberlake, Emory Coleman and William House.

Britenstine.

John Britenstine passed away Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock at his home in Nortonville, aged 66 years, 5 months and 6 days. Mr. Britenstine was born in Morgan county, and Oct. 26, 1876, was married to Miss Sarah E. Henry, who survives him, together with Willis Britenstine, a son, and Mrs. E. S. Sheppard, of Nortonville, a daughter. Nellie, the wife of James Roach, preceded the father in death. Mr. Britenstine leaves also two brothers, Joseph and Frederick Britenstine, both of Nortonville, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Hopper, Nortonville, and Mrs. Nancy Rhynders, of Waverly.

Mr. Britenstine was a member of Youngblood Baptist church and of the I. O. O. F. lodge. He was a man who stood high in the respect of his home community and great grief will be brought to the hearts of many by the news of his passing. Funeral services will be held in Youngblood Baptist church this forenoon at 11 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. Roy March. Burial will be made in Youngblood cemetery, with Odd Fellows in charge of the service at the grave.

CIRCUIT COURT SUITS

A bill to quiet title has been filed by A. N. Hairgrove as attorney in law for E. E. Crabtree, trustee. This bill is directed against Emma D. Brown, Cornelia Widmayer, G. H. Wiegand, Clara Wintler, and Delmar Wintler. The suit relates to the title of the property of the Jacksonville Packing Co. In arranging for the transfer of this property it was found that a certain mortgage dated given years ago in which the defendants were parties had not been properly released on the records, altho the obligation had been entirely satisfied. It is to clear up this record that the present suit for hearing at the May term of the court has been brought.

An appeal case of the Waverly Telephone Co. vs. Ollie and Sallie Fanning has been filed. This is a justice court suit on which judgment was secured by the company for $6.50.

SUPT. PERRIN ADDRESSED PARENTS AND TEACHERS

Interesting Session Held at David Prince Building—School Problems Have Changed With Times

The second meeting of the David Prince parent-teachers association held last evening in the auditorium of the David Prince building was a fine success and a most interesting and profitable audience being present. The president, Mrs. Bradley, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Pyatt, secretary read the minutes of the first meeting. A delightful feature of the occasion was the beautiful singing of Miss Lazelle, most ably accompanied by Miss Edith Robinson. She sang two groups of songs, "Lass With the Delicate Air," "Arms Boat Song" and "The Angel's Song." The Angel's Song was sung by the choir.

The chair then introduced Superintendent H. A. Perrin who gave the address of the evening on "The Needs, Purposes and Methods of Parent-Teacher Associations." Of his superior effort a short outline is presented:

Three Great Influences

"There are three greatest things to be discussed in the relationship of the school to the community, especially thru the parent-teachers association: its needs, its province and its methods. And here let me state my creed, the fundamentals to be held in mind by us."

"I believe in the ability of the average boy or girl to be developed into a normal man or woman. I believe the school is a great institution in that development. I believe in the need of co-operation of the home and the school in this work. The three greatest institutions in unfolding the life of the young are the home, the school and the church."

"When the sturdy, noble people settled on the inhospitable shores of New England they began at once to prepare homes and so all thru their history the home was uppermost and then by the home came the churches, humble and of logs at first but devoted to the worship of God and they were ever bound up with the home. Even during the week the children were sent to the pastor to receive religious instruction and when the Dutch took possession of new territory they stipulated that settlements should have churches with pastors and school houses with teachers."

The Changing Times

"As time passed and descendants of the pioneers moved westward they brought with them the same ideas and as I travel thru the country it is a pleasure to see churches and school buildings scattered about the land. In the early days the church, school and home were closely allied. The schoolhouse was generally the place for public gatherings, debates and all kinds of affairs. Most of the work was done at home. The children went to school while it lasted and then assisted at home the rest of the year but now different now, people crowd into the cities and children work in factories until laws must be made to protect them and give them an opportunity to develop and become educated. Often the fathers leave early in the morning and do not return till the smaller children are asleep. Any wonder we have different arrangements? Any wonder times and manners are not what they were? The world is moving forward so fast that the great problem is what we are to do for the children. Hence some reasons why the parent-teachers association may have a work to do."

"First, it should restore as far as possible the unity between home and school. Much of the training of the children that used to be done at home is now delegated to the school and church and hence how important that the family and school should be linked if the best work is to be accomplished."

"Second, it is necessary that the child should feel that the parent is vitally interested in all the child does in the church and school which now do what was once done by the parents."

Third, the time has come when we should get back to the old machine and link ourselves more fully together in school, family and church."

Co-operation of Parents and Teachers

"The times have changed and perhaps the raising of children must be done somewhat differently. Conditions are far different from what they were fifty years ago and we must adapt ourselves to them. So much gatherings as this are valuable where we may discuss means and methods and exchange ideas. Once it was supposed that yellow fever came from swamps but it has been discovered that an innocent mosquito carried the infections and so on all along the way. There should be private conferences between parents and teachers and all should cooperate in helping along the work. Parents should visit the schools if possible and become acquainted with methods and work."

"Children should have proper tools. We don't hire a gardener and turn him into the field with only his hands. The child cannot fully comprehend geography by learning bare facts and figures. He should have access to pictures, magazines and various sources of information. We should cooperate. In Lincoln the people combined and bought for the schools victrolas so that children who had no music at home had the best at school; a playground was furnished with apparatus and much accomplished by united effort."

Boards Have Hard Task

"It is hard for boards of education to accomplish what they would like with the limited taxes available. The law should be changed so that what is now devoted only to buildings may be used if it can be spared for school purposes."

Two hundred barrel cistern with pump and sink inside and a thoroughly well arranged and nicely finished interior. This house is all on the ground and comparatively new. A fine high graded yard with excellent shade and first class concrete walks.

There is a garage 16x24, well floored with glass south side exposure, a second chicken house in good condition, excellent barn 26x32 with floored stalls for five horses and room for four cows, with corn crib and a large hay mow. There is an out ert for 600 bushels. A hog house with ten compartments beside other buildings. There are two five acre lots for crops, two blue grass lots of 3 acres each and a nice field of alfalfa and an excellent orchard just coming to its best.

This is one of the most desirable homes in the vicinity of Jacksonville and can be sold on easy terms. Owner might consider a good modern residence property or farm land in exchange. Could give possession April 1st of this year.

MRS. SARGENT'S FUNERAL HELD AT OLD HOME

Many Gathered for Final Services in Memory of Long Time Resident—Rev. W. S. Phillips Had Charge of Services.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Binda Sargent attracted a large number of sympathetic and affectionate friends at the family home west of the city. A much beloved former pastor, Rev. W. S. Phillips of Cerro Gordo, officiated while music was supplied by Mrs. Wallace Brockman, Miss Cora Graham, Messrs. T. H. Rapp, and C. A. Rowe, who sang "Rock of Ages," "Beautiful Valley of Eden," and "Sweet Bye and Bye." Suitable passages of scripture were read and prayer offered and then the speaker announced his text, Rev. 22:4, "And they shall see His face and His name shall be in their foreheads." Of the excellent discourse that followed a few extracts are offered.

Simplicity of Faith
A beautiful and striking thing in this world is the simplicity of faith. Men may wander far from the belief of their fathers; they may roam all thru the highways and byways of skepticism, unbelief, error, so-called free thought, rationalism and doubt and all prove to the yearning human heart but empty husks; cold comfort; worthless in the trying hours of the soul. The Blessed Master said if we would become members of His kingdom, His followers and His disciples, we must become as little children; that is, we must manifest the implicit faith the little ones have for their parents and superiors. The self-satisfied egoist, the one who spurns faith as obsolete and out of date never gets anywhere; life for him is an empty void, nothing is sure but his present existence and the great beyond whither we are all tending is for him veiled in impenetrable darkness.

"The text says the blessed shall see His face and His name shall be in their foreheads which refers to the custom of placing the name of the Creator on frontlets, the bells of horses and in conspicuous places. How wonderful it will be when we get a new name; when His name will be ours. The Pure in heart shall see God. I am glad that is so simple and easy to understand. There are many things I do not know and cannot now comprehend while in the flesh but I am assured by the beloved disciple who leaned on His bosom at the last supper that when I see Him I shall be like Him for I shall see Him as he is. This mother in Israel had that faith and her simple life of trust was truly beautiful. I was much pleased with the biography published in the morning paper. I suspected the one so intimate with the family and on the staff of the paper wrote it and I find I was correct. You should cut it out and keep it for hers was a life whose memory deserves to be perpetuated.

Cheerfulness of Religion
"We are far apt to think that to be religious we should be somber and gloomy when the opposite is the fact. We are told by the wise man that "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine" and that was faithfully practiced by our departed sister. She was ever merry and full of vivacity. When I would visit her she never had anything sad or gloomy to offer but something bright and cheery; full of fun and good humor. She loved to have me sing for her and how she would rejoice in the beautiful singing of the choir here today could she have heard it. Friendship is one form of love and that she had. She loved her friends and wasn't slow to let them know it. Old people are reminiscent more and more as they advance in age but she never reached that period. When we find our selves dwelling on the past we may be certain we are approaching the sunset and yellow leaf in our lives. Her love was strong and had genuine pull to it. Her house was truly home to me and all her friends. She was absorbed in the present and only spoke of the past when requested to do so and then her wonderful memory, her appreciation of conditions and events made her narratives always delightful to those who heard them.

W. P. PHILLIPS TO WED HAVANA YOUNG WOMAN

Announcement of Engagement of Well Known Musician to Miss Alice Borgelt—Wedding Will Take Place Coming Summer.

Announcement has recently been made of the engagement of Miss Alice Borgelt of Havana and Mr. William Preston Phillips of Lake Forest. The marriage is to take place in the coming summer. Miss Borgelt, like Mr. Phillips, has musical tastes and training and is accounted a violinist of unusual ability.

Mr. Phillips, who spent a good many years of his life in Jacksonville, is the son of Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Phillips, now of Cerro Gordo. He graduated from Illinois college in 1908 and subsequently studied music extensively, carrying on the work begun in his college days. For some time Mr. Phillips was instructor in vocal music at the Woman's college and subsequently engaged in teaching work in Bloomington and Peoria. For about two years he has held an important position as head of the department of music at Lake Forest university.

Study in the east and abroad, coupled with ability, have given Mr. Phillips prominent place in the musical circles of the state, and announcement of his marriage will therefore be a matter of interest to a large number of people.

WINCHESTER

Earl Owings and little daughter, Charlotte, are here from Canton for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Owings.

Dr. M. L. McDonough was in Glasgow Wednesday and delivered a Wilson & Sons upright piano, sold to the Baptist Sunday school there.

Mrs. Stanley Stokes accompanied her mother, Mrs. Mathew Chance, to her home here this week and Mrs. Chance was able Wednesday to go for a short ride. She underwent an operation in a St. Louis hospital several weeks ago.

The Misses Stewart returned Thursday to their home in Alsey after a visit at the home of their brother, Harry Stewart.

One of the best numbers of the winter lecture course is announced for this evening. Montville Woods will give a science lecture which is said to be very fine. Mr. Woods will be assisted by his daughter, Alice.

Ladies of the Christian church will give their annual chicken supper in the basement of the church, Thursday evening, March 29. The women of this church have a well established reputation and their suppers are always anticipated with pleasure.

John W. Moore of St. Louis was a visitor here this week.

Work was begun Monday at the old Parker mine, north of here. It is proposed to remove the water that the clay deposits may be examined and it is hoped that Winchester people may soon have the benefit of a prosperous industry.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE STUDENTS TOLD ABOUT CAMPAIGN.

At the Woman's college chapel exercises Thursday morning President Harker made announcement of the intention of the college authorities to raise a fund of $400,000 by 1921. In the previous campaigns for funds some plan has been adopted of keeping the student body in touch with the progress made, and in this instance Dr. Harker has arranged a series of dials or meters resembling clock faces. They will be kept in a conspicuous place at the college and will record the advances made from time to time. As was made clear at a recent meeting of the trustees, the $400,000 which will make the total value of college property and endowment fund $1,000,000, is essential if the college maintains even its present prestige.

In his address Dr. Harker outlined the needs and told of the action taken by the trustees. The students are enthusiastic over the proposition and realize the need, and if they give assistance with the same enthusiasm that they have in other campaigns their influence will be a large factor in making the coming campaign a success.

FIRE PREVENTION CAMPAIGN BROUGHT TO A CLOSE

The educational campaign for fire prevention, being conducted by the state fire marshal's department, was brought to a close with a talk at the Illinois college chapel hour Thursday morning. Edward Holland, special investigator, went to Lynville Thursday to inquire into the recent fire which destroyed the residence of Wesley Combs.

During the day Thursday fire drills, suggested by the marshal, were held at Jacksonville high school. The spiral fire escapes were used for the first time this year.

NEW ANGLE IN THE CLAMPIT TANGLED CASE*JEALOUSY MAY BE CAUSE OF BERTHELSEN'S ACTION.*Habeas Corpus Proceedings Brought to Secure Release of Mr. and Mrs.
Clampit and Hearing Will be Held
in Carrollton Today—Mrs. Clampit
Declares Charges of Iowa Man
Are Not True.That there will be a hard legal battle in the Clampit case was evidenced yesterday when Attorney John M. Loneragan arrived from Chicago at once got in consultation with J. Marshall Miller who had been retained and steps were taken to begin habeas corpus proceedings.The papers were issued by Circuit Clerk Charles W. Boston and were served on Sheriff Graff by Coroner Rose. Sheriff Graff will take the Clampits to Carrollton this morning
where the argument will be heard before Judge Norman L. Jones.Attorneys Miller and Loneragan went to Springfield Thursday afternoon to see Governor Lowden. They probably will urge him not to honor the requisition papers which will be brought here by Sheriff Marsh of Cerro Gordo county, Iowa.Clampit and his wife were seen by a Journal reporter at the county jail Thursday evening. Mrs. Clampit talked freely about the case and her story puts the matter in a new light.Calls Berthelsen Jealous.
According to Mrs. Clampit's story Berthelsen is crazy about her and the arrests are the result of insane jealousy. She made it plain that if she would return to Berthelsen and live with him that both cases would be dropped.Berthelsen in his version of the case said that Clampit had introduced his wife to him. (Berthelsen)
as his sister. Mrs. Clampit says that she knew Berthelsen before she met Clampit and that he had always wanted her to marry him.Then she said after she married Clampit she received a letter from Berthelsen and that he told her he was sorry to learn that she was having so much trouble and again he urged her to leave Clampit and go with him.It seemed that Berthelsen had learned thru a friend of Mrs. Clampit's that Clampit's first wife had begun proceedings in Oklahoma to have his divorce set aside. Mrs.
Clampit said last night that they had heard that she had succeeded and that she had been told by an attorney that she was free.Strong With Promises.
It was about this time that Berthelsen wrote her and asked her to come and visit at Clear Lake, Iowa.
Mrs. Clampit said that she was in poor health and went to Fox Lake near Chicago. She afterward went to Clear Lake and there Berthelsen made violent love to her and told her that she should marry him, that he would give her everything she wished for.After some persuasion she said she met him in Chicago and they were married. She said that it was untrue that Clampit was best man and that he was not introduced as her brother or she as his sister. According to Mrs. Clampit, Berthelsen insisted that Clampit go to Clear Lake with them and that he went and stayed about two weeks, afterward leaving and going to Chicago and later to Detroit.Mrs. Clampit's story of her married life with Berthelsen reads like a movie. She said that for the first few weeks Berthelsen was very attentive and gave her everything she wished for. But soon he became a bold bad man and he began to retrench so that it required considerable prying to loosen him from a five dollar bill.Threatened to Bring Bigamy Charge.
Life soon became so unbearable that she decided to leave him. She said Berthelsen always told her if she left him he would have her arrested. She says she went to relatives in Indiana and stayed for three weeks. Berthelsen located her but arrived there a day after she started for Detroit. He had her arrested in Detroit and taken to Chicago.
Here he begged her to return to him and said if she would that he would drop the charge of bigamy. Mrs.
Clampit said she refused to consent and that she wrote him to be sure and to present at the trial but that he failed to show up.If Mrs. Clampit's story is true she never got more than $500 from Berthelsen during the few months
they were married. She expressed the opinion that he never had $5,000 in all his life.Mrs. Clampit says she has a large number of letters to produce in court
if the case ever comes up, which she seems to doubt. Clampit did not do much talking. However, he said that Berthelsen had written several letters to his mother demanding that she reimburse him for the money
he said her son had stolen from him.May Be Federal Case.
Attorney Loneragan says that he has a number of these letters. He told a Journal reporter yesterday that one of the letters Berthelsen had written to Clampit's mother was in the hands of the federal authorities and that it was probable that proceedings would be instituted against him.According to the story of the Clampits the charge Berthelsen makes against Mrs. Clampit is bigamy and they believe that he wants to get her to Iowa in the hope that he can influence her to again live with him.HOME ECONOMICS LECTURE.This afternoon, March 23rd, at omics department of the Woman's

TO PROTECT LIVESTOCK*Bills Now in Preparation to Prevent Spread of Cholera and Tuberculosis—Strict Quarantine EssentialSpringfield, Ill., March 22.—Livestock interests in Illinois, backed by the state board of livestock commissioners, will ask the legislature at the present session for further measures to protect hogs against cholera and cattle against tuberculosis. Bills having these ends in view are now being prepared, but will not be ready for presentation to the general assembly for several weeks. Dr.
O. E. Dyson, state veterinarian, says:There will not be any attempt to pass a bill supervising the distribution, use and sale of hog cholera
serum and virus, according to Dr.
Dyson. Such a measure was defeated in the Forty-ninth general assembly.At present there is on the statute books a law providing for quarantine of cholera infected hogs, but Dr. Dyson said the live stock board has not been able to carry out the intent of the law because of the lack of funds for the employment of inspectors.Without strict quarantine, Illinois will never be able to reduce the $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 loss annually from hog cholera, said Dr.
Dyson, and quarantine is impossible without officers to make it effective.The bill to protect Illinois cattle against tuberculosis would provide that a buyer who goes into another state to secure additions to his own herd secure a certificate stating that not only the animals he buys but other members of the herd are in good health and free from tuberculosis."It often occurs," said Dr. Dyson, "that cattle imported into Illinois are apparently free from tuberculosis when they arrive, but the disease develops after coming here because it was in a passive state.
Investigation will often show that a large percentage of the animals in the herd from which the particular animals came are infected. The law ought to forbid the importation of cattle exposed to tuberculosis or provide for quarantine of such cattle until all danger is past."NOTICE*The Street Payments are now

ments, and if not paid within

tion.Charles B. Graff,

Mention was made in Thursday's Journal of H. C. Mans being fined for employing boys under 14 years of age.Mr. Mans does not believe that he received fair treatment in the matter and the Journal is glad to present his version of the affair. According to Mr. Mans he hired a boy last Saturday to drive a wagon for him and assist in distributing samples. He paid the boy off Saturday night giving him a dollar.The boy asked for employment Monday but Mr. Mans says he asked him if he was attending school and when he received an affirmative reply he told the boy he could not employ him. Then the boy came to him Monday evening with a note from his father and mother asking him to give their son the job. He did so on the strength of the note.Mr. Mans said that when he was arrested the deputy sheriff took him to the jail and locked him in a cell
and that he was there for some time before he was able to get in communication with F. H. Rode to secure an attorney and get released.
Mr. Mans says he knew nothing about the law and would not have hired the boy had he known it was a violation.A NEW CARW. A. Myers drove up to the city

ADOPT MEASURE TO SOLVE FOOD PROBLEM

Appointment of Minister of Public Subsistence in Austria Meets With Universal Favor—Exorbitant Prices Charged for Commodities

Vienna, March.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The recent appointment by Emperor Charles of a minister of public subsistence, in the person of Major-General Anton Hoefer, formerly a member of the General Staff, and known as an expert in army subsistence matters, has so far been a universal success. The measure yet adopted to meet the constantly increasing food problems. The already in the care of a central food bureau, and subject of many government regulations, public subsistence in Austria threatened to become a hopeless chaos because the men charged with its administration lacked the necessary ability.

The new powers charged with public subsistence matters have set up, and in part already enforced, a new program, most of whose aspects are decidedly military, as was suggested by the training and experience of Major-General Hoefer. It is felt that the food problems will be near final solution on the day on which it will be impossible to suppress all private sales to consumers, transactions carried on in defiance of the law and total disregard of maximum price regulations. Persons willing to buy at a rate far above the maximum price have been able to get food in unlimited quantities, at the expense of the small consumer who must look upon maximum prices as the sole means of getting food at reasonable cost under present conditions. The effect of this has been that the consumer willing to pay the price has been able to get all the food he wanted, while the poor man, often after standing in line for hours, has seen turned away empty-handed, because private sales on the "black-market" plan had depleted the stores on hand, the private purchaser buying more than the law allows at a price far above the maximum set by the government.

It is the plan of the new food administration to proceed against this practice with all the severity the law permits. In the past this has not been possible. The Vienna public is extremely good-natured and averse to the role of informer or police spy, a fact which has been exploited by those with means and the storekeepers. But even the patience of the small consumer in Austria has a limit. It seems, and court records of recent weeks show that a greater number of food law transgressions are being reported. In disposing of these cases the courts have shown no mercy and an appeal has generally had the surprising result of punishments being increased. Thus a dealer in foodstuffs, sentenced to imprisonment for three weeks and a fine of 500 crowns, argued against his punishment to imprisonment for three months and a fine of 2,000 crowns by having his case reviewed by the Appeal Senate, which body found that the lower court had been altogether too lenient.

Despite this, usury in food prices continues, evidence of the fact that defying food regulations is highly profitable. So great seems to be the lure of making money of a general misfortune that nothing suffices to check it, as was shown already over a century ago when the French revolutionary government made usury in food sales a capital crime and was obliged to execute a goodly number of shopkeepers.

Much of the food bought at private sales and delivered clandestinely is not intended for immediate consumption. It is stored. There are thousands of families in Vienna who have on hand, stored in cellar and garret, lockers and chests, food staples for two years. For the sake of appearances, and in order not to use up their hoard, the same families meet their present daily need in the open market, increasing in this manner the daily general consumption to the extent in which they buy for hoarding. Only those with means enough can afford this, so that the shortage due to the practice falls altogether upon the poorer classes.

Rapacious storekeepers favor this course, because it nets them prices often 200 per cent above the maximum price set by the government. Whether the store be large or small makes no difference. Each has its private buyers, to whom food is sold

MOTHER! YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH
FROM CONSTIPATION

If Tongue is Coated, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour, Clean Liver and Bowels.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out of sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting natural—look mother, see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

at any price and in any quantity, regardless of regulations. While thousands are unable to get butter and fat in the quantities prescribed by the government cards, other thousands, as much as they want and when they want it. The households which as yet have been without meat on a meatless day are few indeed, provided the family treasury can bear the strain. While the bulk of the population eats a very poor sort of black bread, many enjoy full wheat bread, as before the war, because they have the price and money still buys anything in Austria. The storekeeper recognizes in the present situation a fine opportunity to make money and is not letting the chance go by.

In the end the retailer is little more than the agent of the wholesaler in this muleting of a war-worn public. Not so long ago a shipment of more than a million eggs spoiled in a Vienna railroad yard because the prevailing price did not suit the owners. Today it is impossible to get eggs at even 10 heller apiece, but this is merely one instance of illicit price promotion, as the practice is called here.

There are a number of excuses to delay shipments and keep food out of the larger centers. Always the war is blamed. It is the excuse for every tactical move to cause artificial shortages—situations which do not affect maximum prices, but force up food at the private sales. The immediate result of such a shortage is that the cost of living, which in reality moves beyond the sphere of maximum prices altogether, goes up another ten or twenty per cent. The Austrian living in a large population center either meets his household's food demands at a private sale or strikes to maximum prices and goes hungry. While maximum prices allow an increase in the cost of living of about forty per cent, living is about 250 per cent more expensive than before the war.

It is known that the large Vienna banks are not uninterested in this practice. Much of the capital needed to make the cornering and holding of food possible, is supplied by them, at a suitable rate, of course. During the war these banks have become almost omnipotent for the reason that the government needs them. It is said that Major-General Hoefer will meet in them an antagonist worthy of his best efforts.

On the whole food in Austria is not scarce. Most of the rural districts do not know as yet what the government regulation of one's bill of fare is. While bread, butter and fat cards have been introduced everywhere, the country population on the whole pays little attention to them.

The farmer also is averse to selling at maximum prices. He will hold his products for an opportunity to make a private sale. He can afford to do this, because it ultimately part of his foodstuff, he is questioned by the government he will get the maximum price anyway. In certain districts in Bohemia, and the Salzburg country food conditions are nearly normal, the in adjacent mountainous parts, which must import some of their food, the situation resembles those in the cities and larger towns.

Austria's food problems have been aggravated by the attitude of the Hungarian government. Austria is largely industrial, while Hungary is essentially an agricultural state. In the past the two have exchanged manufactured for soil products. Anxious however, that its own stomach might suffer Hungary has enforced a number of export prohibitions which have not bettered the situation in Austria. While the Hungarian government has given as its excuse that the recent crops have not been good, it is understood that this somewhat unbrotherly conduct, Hungary at any rate has more food than her population needs, the Budapest is suffering from the same hardships as is Vienna. The food merchants of both capitals have made up their mind to make all this money they can, and so far neither government has been able to frighten them into a more reasonable attitude.

Meanwhile the situation in Vienna cannot become much worse than it is, without the government being obliged to adopt the drastic measure of confiscation. Sanction for this already exists and, except dealers in foodstuffs decide to be reasonable, paragraph fourteen of the Austrian constitution may find application here.

With certain classes the war and its appeal to patriotism have lost all novelty. They have decided to become rich while they have the opportunity under a set of conditions which has eliminated competition and reduced the entire country to a state of commercial vassalage. Some of the examples of this are shocking. In a certain Vienna cafe, appendage of a well-known hotel, the management has the courage to charge 70 heller for a piece of rice cake worth one American cent. The protest of the customers has since then caused the cake to be sold at 40 heller—after the portion had been cut nearly in half. For a pair of shoes 80 crowns is asked today, on the plea that there is no leather—a fictitious claim which is all the more absurd since the uppers of such a pair of shoes are made of a textile fabric.

CALIFORNIA'S ROADS.

One trip to California or to New York, Massachusetts or almost any eastern state where the highways have been given proper attention during the past few years, will convince anyone of the value of good roads. Here's a fresh testimonial which comes to the Register-Gazette in a letter from A. J. Lovejoy of Roscoe, who is spending the winter on the Pacific coast. Writing from Pasadena he says, among other things:

"We are enjoying our winter on the coast very much and are motoring every day all over the country. I never saw such roads in my life and if the people of Illinois could ride over thousands of miles of beautiful roads like these, they would go home and vote for bonding every county in the state." SCHOOL FOR BLIND
WINS ATHLETIC CONTEST

Y. M. C. A. Defeated 34 to 29 at I. S. B. Gymnasium Thursday Evening

The School for the Blind defeated the city Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening in an indoor athletic contest, held in the I. S. B. gymnasium. The score was 34 to 29 in favor of the School for the Blind. A large crowd was present and the contest created a great deal of interest, especially for I. S. B., the Y. M. C. A. meeting defeat in a similar contest last year.

The events were begun at 7:30 o'clock, with H. A. Brewer and M. B. Crabbe as judges and Fred E. Barr and Leslie Corn as scorers. Mr. Brewer had charge of preparations for the contest on the part of the Y. M. C. A. and L. J. Flood, of I. S. B., trained the students who represented the School for the Blind.

The first event was a standing high jump and this resulted in a tie, with Bartlett, Peckham and Dunsmore, all of the Y. M. C. A., all reaching a height of 4 ft. 3 in. and counting for the association 1st, 2nd and 3rd in this event.

The other events follow: Medicine ball throw—Bartlett, Y. M. C. A., 1st; Sutherland, I. S. B., 2nd; and McGuffee, I. S. B., 3rd. Distance 42-9.

Standing broad jump—Stephenson, I. S. B., 1st; Furry, Y. M. C. A., 2nd; Leach, Y. M. C. A., 3rd. Distance 9-9.

Rope climb—Dutton, I. S. B., 1st; Marshall, Y. M. C. A., 2nd; Piper, I. S. B., 3rd. Time, 6 3/4 seconds.

Hop, step and jump, standing—Stephenson, I. S. B., 1st; Furry, Y. M. C. A., 2nd; Peckham, Y. M. C. A., 3rd. Distance, 28 feet 1-2 inch.

Swinging dips on parallel bars—Wiley, I. S. B., 1st; Dutton, I. S. B., 2nd; Metrie, I. S. B., 3rd. Number of dips, 22.

Three consecutive jumps—Stephenson, I. S. B., 1st; Furry, Y. M. C. A., 2nd; Peckham, Y. M. C. A., 3rd. Distance, 29-2 1/4.

GERMAN DESERTERS

FORM SOCIETY.
Alkmaar, Netherlands, Feb.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—A society of German deserters has just been formed here. The projected name of "Teutonia" was rejected and it was finally resolved to adopt the name of the "Free Workers' Society of Deserters."

It is announced that the society's membership is open to deserters of any foreign nationality, but at the present only German deserters actually arrive in Holland, where they are now numbered by the hundred. With a view to fulfilling the society's special object, that of helping to set new arrivals on their feet, a contribution of ten American cents a week was fixed on, while it was stated that a number of employers of labor had already applied to the society for workmen of different trades.

RESIGNATION RESULT OF
LACK OF CONFIDENCE.

Luxemburg, Feb.—The question of food supply has led to the resignation of the Coalition Cabinet, after a brief ten months' existence. The resignation was the direct result of a vote of lack of confidence in Dr. Walter, the Socialist Minister for Agriculture. It is expected that a reconstructed ministry, from which Minister Walter is excluded, will succeed to power.

Luxemburg is almost entirely cut off from foreign supplies, and the home harvests are inadequate, especially as regards grain and potatoes. Into the bargain, much discontent had arisen in consequence of alleged faulty organization, and bitter complaints were leveled at Dr. Walter, even the Liberals and Socialists deserting him.

GOVERNMENT'S SUGGESTION
CREATES STIR

London, March.—The government's suggestion that the retail credit system be suspended on grounds of national economy has created a stir in the retail trade. Probably two-thirds of the retail shopping is done on credit in this country and the government's idea, if carried out, will while effecting economy, produce inconvenience both to the storekeepers and the public.

The practice has been to charge more to customers buying on credit. The wealthier classes have been indifferent to this extra cost because they wanted the goods as a matter of convenience. It is the poorer and middle classes who are hit hardest by the proposed change because the credit allowed by the shopkeepers has relieved them of a small financial difficulty which they may be under for a time.

DON'T DRUG KIDNEYS
RUB BACKACHE AWAY

Instant Relief! Rub Pain, Soreness and Stiffness from Your Back with "St. Jacob's Oil"

Kidneys cause backache? No! They have no nerves, therefore can not cause pain. Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica, or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Rub it right on the ache or tender spot, and instantly the pain, soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacob's Oil" from your druggist and limber up. A moment after it is applied you will wonder what became of the back ache, sciatica or lumbago pain. "St. Jacob's Oil" stops any pain at once. It is harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

It's the only application to rub on a weak, lame or painful back, or for lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, sprains or a strain.—Adv.

Vinol
CREATES STRENGTHFOR
DELICATE CHILDREN

A Southern Mother Tells How Her Little Son Was Made Strong

Miami, Fla.—"Our little boy was puny and cross from the time he was born, and we hardly knew how to handle him. When he was three years old he was weak and so cross we could hardly live with him, and we could not get him to eat anything. A friend asked us to try Vinol. We did so and you should see the change it has made in him. He is now a good-natured, healthy youngster, ready to eat at any time, and we cannot say enough praise of Vinol."—J. L. ALBURY, Miami, Fla.

Vinol is a delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, containing beef peptone, which creates an appetite, tones up the digestive organs, enriches the blood and creates strength—children love to take it.

We ask all parents of weak, sickly, delicate children in this vicinity to try Vinol with the understanding that we will return your money if it fails to benefit your little ones.

STOP
COUGHING

The simplest and best way to stop coughs, is to take
Foley's Honey and Tar

You get the curative influence of the pine balsam together with the mollifying effect of the honey, and other healing ingredients. It leaves a soothing coating on the inflamed tickling throat, raises phlegm easily and puts a quick end to hard wearing coughs.

R. F. Hall, M.D., Va., writes: "One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar stopped a troublesome bronchial cough and irritation that had bothered me for fifteen years." Your dealer sells it. Try it.

EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF INDIGESTION OR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

Instant Relief! "Pape's Diapiesin" Ends Your Stomach Distress.
Try It!

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have dyspepsia. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened, without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapiesin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops food souring and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Your stomach will digest your meals if you keep acids neutralized.—Adv.

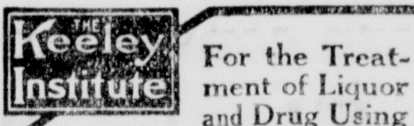

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

Miss Louise Nolan, a young Irish chorus girl, was recently given the Military Medal for Valor by King George, for running to the succor of a wounded soldier under rifle fire, at the time of the Irish rebellion in Dublin. Miss Nolan is only 17. She felt no fear, she says, during her defiance of death, but a sort of intoxication, a "mad delight." She also thought of her brothers in France when she saw the soldier drop, badly wounded.

Mrs. James W. Gerard, wife of the returning ambassador of Germany, was before her marriage Miss Mary Daly, daughter of the late Marcus Daly, millionaire financier and mining man. She had been in Berlin but a few short months before the breaking out of the great war, Mr. Gerard having been appointed ambassador July 28, 1913, but she had even then made her mark as an amiable hostess, when the war naturally curtailed her social life to a marked degree in the German capital. Mrs. Gerard enjoys the distinction of being the only woman who ever treated the Kaiser to a real Yankee Thanksgiving turkey dinner, "with all the fixings."

Backed by forty judges and well known lawyers of New York, a determined drive is being made by women to force the entrance of the Columbia University Law School. Among the distinguished jurists endorsing the efforts of the women are Alton B. Parker, Francis Lynde Stetson, Henry L. Stinson, Charles L. Guy, Lamar Hardy and Samuel Seabury. Women are already permitted to study in the summer law session and they have recently been admitted to the Medical School.

Mary Austin, novelist and essayist, who recently resigned from the Woman's Peace Party, gave the following as her reasons: "I have resigned from the Woman's Peace Party because it seems to me those women are feeding the emotional side of life as arrantly as did the women of 1860. The latter used ringlets and pink cheeks and sensibility; the women pacifists are using sentimental propaganda. Both groups are living in a balcony, that balcony from which the women of 1917 are cheering men back to the rear." Mrs. Austin has for some years been noted as forceful and original writer, of radical views. Her last book, "The Man Jesus," a radical analysis of the Savior's life, attracted wide attention.

Mrs. Gertrude Ingenhult of Minneapolis had a birthday party this week and baked her own birthday cake. It had to be a big cake, allowing room for sticking 103 candles. Mrs. Ingenhult was 103 on March 20, and thought it a perfectly ordinary thing that she should bake her own birthday cake. She never thinks of being old, she says, "unless some one tells me about it." She likes to cook and help around the house, if only her daughters will let her. This cheery and healthy centenarian attributes her longevity and excellent health to the fact that she always had a happy and comfortable life, with plenty of good food and plenty of rest. She even says that "a little slip of kum-rud" now and then has helped, when she felt out of sorts.

Alice Paul, recently chosen as chairman of the National Woman's Peace Party, is a native of Moorhead, N. D., who graduated from Swarthmore College in 1905, and two years later got her M. A. from the University of Pennsylvania. On a fellowship from Swarthmore College she resided for several years in England, studying at the Universities of London and Birmingham, and serving as resident worker in various settlements. Returning to New York she graduated from the New York School of Philanthropy and entered upon social work in connection with the charity organizations of that city. A Quaker by inheritance, while in England she became much interested in the equal suffrage cause, identifying herself with the militant suffragettes and being three times imprisoned. A few years ago she emerged in the United States as an efficient suffrage organizer. In that group of women desiring more forceful methods than the pacific and orderly means of propaganda headed by Mrs. Catt, and from that time to the present she has been an independent organizer of the more radical workers for suffrage. She is a tactician of much fertility and resource, and a tenacious contender for ideals in which she believes.

A PITY ONE MAN WENT WRONG.

Absence of a Wholesome Social Influence in a Neighborhood is Often Responsible for Human Derelicts.

I saw an old man out on the farm the other day whose career set me thinking. He is naturally a kind, kindly, unassuming, a good-hearted man. He is a good neighbor. He has never been a sot, and has never figured in any court as a law-breaker or disturber of the public peace. Still, this man has ruined his life by acts of dissipation and immorality.

The Craving of Every Human Heart.
What I wonder is whether this man is to blame for his broken life, or whether the community on the state is to blame. I doubt whether that man is naturally at heart any worse than you or I—possibly better than you or I. But he grew up unlettered and in an individualistic neighborhood, a neighborhood without community spirit, and without well developed social institutions. And the craving of every human heart is for variety, color, something to break the monotony of the common round of life and work.

If There Had Been a Wholesome Social Life in the Community.

"If that man had had an education, if some worthy and ennobling interest had come into his life to engage his thoughts, I doubt whether he would ever have gone off into those practices whose consequences now shame him and his kin," said one of his friends. And I am inclined to believe that this friend was right. Or if there had been a wholesome social life in the community, if he had gotten interested with a group of others in singing, or baseball, or social parties, or anything that offered a change from the regular routine of life I doubt whether this man would ever have gone off after the baser things of existence.

The Moral Duty to Organize and Provide Recreation.

And all this suggests the moral duty resting upon each of us to help develop neighborhood organizations and wholesome agencies of recreation. Your child is going to get interested in something besides eating and drinking and working. And the way to keep him from getting interested in something bad is to see that he gets interested in something that is good.

"Get Her Genuinely Interested in Something."

The best way to keep down useless or obnoxious plants on any piece of land is to set it to growing useful plants. The land is going to grow something, and your mind is going to grow something. Get your child to take up some hobby; to get him or her genuinely interested in something—in school studies; in reading good books and papers; in playing the violin, the piano, or in singing, in baseball, basketball or tennis; in the corn club, canning club, pig club, or debating club—and you don't have to worry much about that child getting into bad habits. Clarence Poe, in the Progressive Farmer.

OFFERS $1,000,000.00 FOR JEWISH RELIEF

NEW YORK, March 22.—Julius Rosenwald, president of Sears, Roebuck & Company of Chicago, wired the American Jewish Relief Committee today a conditional offer of $1,000,000 to feed and clothe Jewish war sufferers. The relief committee has announced $10,000,000 as the amount that must be raised immediately if 3,000,000 Jews in the eastern war zone are to be saved from death. Mr. Rosenwald will pay $100,000 as each million is raised.

THE MOUNTAIN THAT WAS GOD

The following beautiful story was written by a young woman, born and partly reared in this country. (By Helen K. Landers, Payalup.)
Tahoma. The mountain that was God. How beautiful you are even to your enemies. For they were your enemies who changed your name, they were the enemies who call you that name, Ranier. How harsh it sounds beside that old Indian name, Tahoma, full of dear suggestions to you. Then you were God to the red men. They feared and worshipped you. When you frowned they trembled; when you smiled they were happy. To them you were supernatural with your eternal snows and benign appearance. You were a haven for outcasts and fugitives, for once within your sacred limits they were as safe as in the arms of God. They knew where the coldest springs were on you, where the clearest waterfalls tumbled, where the ferns were tallest and greenest, where the first flowers peeped through the snow in the springtime. They knew you yet they feared you. When your mighty crest was clothed in thunder, storm and cloud, they fell down and prayed to you to be merciful, trying in every way to propitiate your terrible wrath.

How different it is today. Now you are feared, but in a different way. The "Land of Peace" of the Indian has been changed into the famous Paradise Valley for the amusement and recreation of the white man. We know that the mighty tumults of your crest are but storms of wind and snow, not the wrath of God. We know that when you are fair and calm it is but the sun shining, not the token that you are glad. We do not fall down in superstitious awe at your different moods, but you are still worshipped—not by barbarians and savages, but by civilized men and women. That is the greatest boon of all. It shows that our true ascendancy or the ascendancy of nature over her creations, it is and always will be whether red men or white inhabit you.

A DEBATING SOCIETY.

A wide-awake debating society will do much to improve the boys and young men of the community, and will furnish opportunities for getting together meetings in the neighborhood. One of the principal reasons why so many of the young people in the rural districts annually flock to the towns and cities is the fact that there are so very few sources of pleasure and amusement in the country. Our Local Unions can do much in stimulating this community activity. The writer has known of quite a number of school districts in which the organization of debating societies has produced most beneficial results. Let us have one before the close of the present school term in every district in the state.—C. C. Wright in the Progressive Farmer.

PREPARING TO COMBAT PROBABLE EPIDEMICS

State Board of Health Feels Prevalence of Infantile Paralysis During Coming Summer

Springfield, March 22.—Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the state board of health, is marshaling his forces to combat the epidemic of infantile paralysis which, he expects, will be more prevalent in Illinois this summer than last. More than 200 cases were reported to the state board last summer.

As a means of instructing parents and physicians and nurses in proper methods of caring for the disease when contracted, the health department has for several months been conducting clinics in various cities of the state. This Dr. Drake believes, will act to hinder the spread of the disease and also to bring about cures in many cases that otherwise, because of improper treatment might prove fatal.

Two cases of infantile paralysis have been reported from Chicago within the month, and two deaths occurred as a result of the disease. In March, one in Lake county and another in Sangamon county.

Cases at present, diagnosed as infantile paralysis, outside of Cook county, are in Lake Villa, Galesburg, Cambridge and Kincaid.

WILL START CAMPAIGN FOR BELGIAN CHILDREN

University of Illinois Students Seek to Raise $5000 for Relief Fund.

Urbana, Ill., March 21.—With the promise of a winter raised in the student body will be duplicated by an anonymous Chicago donor, the students of the University of Illinois will begin next week a campaign to raise $5000 for the Belgian Children's Relief Fund.

If this money is raised it will be sent to the American Commission for Relief in Belgium to aid the children of the village of Maysen, near Brussels. Prof. H. Greene of the department of history is the chairman of the combined student and faculty committee which will endeavor to raise the money.

Prof. T. E. Oliver of the University faculty is a former member of the Belgian Relief Commission.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS PLANNING BANQUET

Urbana Men Will Pattern After Washington Grليون Club

Urbana, March 21.—Journalism students of the University of Illinois are planning a banquet, patterned after the Washington Grليون Club banquet, at which the students will depict members of the faculty, their follies and foibles. The banquet will be held on Thursday, March 22. Ninety-nine invitations to the affair have been issued.

Emory Carter of the region of Markham brought his wife and some friends to the city yesterday in his Maxwell car.

Corns Peel Right Off With "Gets-It"

2 Drops, and the Corn is a "Goner!"

When you've got to walk on the sides of your shoe to get away from the painful corn-pains, there's only one common-sense thing to do.

Use "Gets-It." Your Corns Won't Swell in Water. Besides, They'll Shrink, Loosen and Peel Off!

Put 2 or 3 drops of "Gets-It" on the corn right away. Pain and inflammation will disappear. The corn will begin to shrink from that instant—then it loosens and falls right off.

There's no other corn-remover in the world that acts like "Gets-It." No new discovery has been made in corn-removal since "Gets-It" was born. Don't forget that fact. "Gets-It" does away forever with the use of salves that irritate, bandages that make a bundle of your toe, plasters that half do the work, knives and scissors that draw blood. Use "Gets-It"—no more digging or cutting.

"Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 50c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Jacksonville and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Armstrong's drug store, Coover & Shreve and J. A. Obermeyer.

WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS

Could Do No Work.
Now Strong as a Man.

Chicago, Ill.—"For about two years I suffered from a female trouble so I was unable to walk or do any of my own work. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and determined to try it. It brought almost immediate relief. My weakness has entirely disappeared and I never had better health. I weigh 165 pounds and am as strong as a man. I think money is well spent which purchases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Jos. O'Bryan, 1755 Newport Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Backache

In spite of the best care one takes of oneself, any part of the human machine is liable to become out of order. The most important organs are the stomach, heart and kidneys.

The kidneys are the scavengers and they work day and night in separating the poisons from the blood. Their signals of distress are easily recognized and include such symptoms as backache, depression, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic twinges, dropsy, gout.

"The very best way to restore the kidneys to their normal state of health," says Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., "is to drink plenty of pure water and obtain from your favorite pharmacy a small amount of Anuric, which is dispensed by almost every druggist." Anuric is inexpensive and should be taken before meals. You will find Anuric more potent than lithia, dissolves uric acid as water does sugar.

FARM NOTES

MARES TO PURDUE UNIVERSITY

The Tazewell County Percheron Association shipped a fine pair of dark dappled-gray young mares to Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, last week. These were not purebreds but were high grades of good type and quality intended for use on the state experiment station farm. The university authorities are much pleased with the pair and they will give visitors to that institution a fair impression of the good class of horses bred and worked on the farms of Tazewell county.

The order for the mares was given the association some time ago, following a couple of addresses delivered by the secretary of the Tazewell organization before the Indiana Draft Horse Breeders' Association at Indianapolis. At first it was intended to ship four different mares who were successful last year furnishing such mares from among their neighboring Farm Bureau members. They reported nothing available that would justify the exacting specifications. By that time Frank Harris of Tremont was through with his organization work in Will and Livingston counties, so I telephoned to him and he got busy next day. He put in the best part of three days with a machine and finally selected these mares. He secured one from Fleugel Bros., who are Farm Bureau members and the other from Chris Kipfer. There were the kind of mares Tazewell County farmers need to keep, but we can well spare a few of them to show farmers in other states what we produce.

CORN BREEDING PLANS

At a recent meeting of the Reid's Yellow Dent Seed Corn Society of Tazewell County, a number of members got together and talked over their plans for this year. Each of the men brought a sample of his best corn and there was quite a discussion of the type of kernel and shape of ear which are most desirable. There is a remarkable uniformity in the type of Reid's Yellow Dent corn produced by the most experienced breeders. T. E. Orth of Washington related his experience regarding the suitability of different classes of land for seed corn production. O. J. Sommer of Pekin told about his remarkable experience with his 195 ear-to-row breeding plot, in which some seed ears yielded twice as much as others. A. C. Hellemann of Tremont told about his plans for carrying on an ear-to-row breeding plot this year and he also told about his demonstration of the advantage of surface cultivation for corn. Several other members were present and the meeting was presided over by Pres. C. S. Sloninger. Reports of the different members indicated that they have had good demand for seed corn. Some lots are already sold out but there is still large quantity available. They will give more attention than ever this year to breeding and selecting for heavy yielding strains of corn, so as to add even more value to the corn they send out for seed purposes.

OATS SMUT TREATMENT

Recently I talked to a number of the druggists regarding the sale of formaldehyde this year for treating oats and several of the other druggists wrote to me about it. They are pricing their formaldehyde as low as possible, so as to encourage farmers to use it. So far as I know, the druggists are doing the sensible thing and pushing formaldehyde for this purpose instead of attempting to foist upon farmers any of the old so-called oats smut remedies, which would cost more for each bushel of oats treated and could not possibly do any more good than formaldehyde. Reports showed that practically all the oats sown in Tazewell County last year were treated for smut. However, there has been so much smut in the country in recent years that it would be advisable to treat all seed oats for smut again this year. If every farmer in the county would do this, we might have the disease so completely eradicated that our oats would be practically free from it for a long time to come. The treatment is so simple and cheap that there is no excuse for anyone raising smutty oats.

E. T. Robbins, County Agricultural Agent.

WILL ADDRESS FARMERS

Springfield, Ill., March 21.—Governor Lowden will address the members of the Sangamon County Farmers' association here on Saturday, March 23, when agriculturists from other sections of the state are expected to be present to hear the executive who himself takes pride in his knowledge of farming and stock raising.

Governor Lowden has not announced his subject, but it is expected that he will speak in general of his idea of what the new department of agriculture should be under the consolidated state administration plan.

Frank I. Mann of Gillman will speak on "Agronomy." Other speakers have not been announced.

In What Condition Is Your House?

Is it a Home, in the real meaning of the word? Has it modern conveniences?

Has It Gas or Electricity?

It is a mistake to believe that only those of large means can afford modern conveniences. These things now days have become actual economies. Costs of production have been so lowered, and equipment so improved, that electricity or gas costs really less than the use of old time methods.

Ask for Our Special Spring House Wiring Plans

We have eight plans, ranging in price from $22.50 for a five room house, to $31.50

for one of eight rooms.

We are making most liberal terms on this work, extending the payments over several months. If you have "renting property" that is not modern, we believe we can prove to you that it will be greatly to your advantage to let us look it over and give you estimates on the work. A modern house commands more permanent tenants, with better rentals.

Is your property equipped to use gas? We should like to talk that matter over with you. Warm weather will soon be here when the new model gas range will be the most prized article for the kitchen.

JAPANESE ADMIRAL URGES NEED OF PREPAREDNESS

Declares Japan and U. S. Must Act as Preservers of Peace—Admiral Tetsuhiro Sato, who speaks with authority as director of the Naval Staff College at Tokyo. He was formerly vice-chief of the naval board of command. He calls his contribution, "The Future of the American Navy."

Tokio, March 22.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The strengthening of the American navy has been widely commented upon in Japan. Opinion is general that it should spur Japan to augment her naval forces which are felt to have fallen lamentably behind in recent years. Several writers profess to see in the American increases a menace to Japan.

Of the comment, perhaps the most representative is an article by Vice-Admiral Tetsuhiro Sato, who speaks with authority as director of the Naval Staff College at Tokyo. He was formerly vice-chief of the naval board of command. He calls his contribution, "The Future of the American Navy."

Admiral Sato declares that peace is the motto that controls the doings of the United States. Japan, he says, seems to be misunderstood in various parts of the world as a warlike nation. But nothing is more erroneous than this misconception. He added:

"The Japanese dislike to take arms against other nations for a question of selfish rights and interests. Every time Japan went to war it was because her honor and dignity had been injured by the other. In short, Japan never resorted to arms until her patience was tried to the last as history shows. Hence, it is the height of folly to dream that Japan will wage war on America or harbor a hostile intention towards America."

Superficial foreigners might indulge in such a foolish dream, he remarked, but no sober-minded Japanese entertained such absurd views. He continued: "Of course, the Japanese would fight America if forced to do so."

But Japan and the United States,

the writer continued, have the great destiny and mission to act as the protectors and preservers of the peace of the Pacific in harmonious co-operation. The commercial treaty there may arise difference and dissension between the two peoples, there cannot and must not be any collision between them in other respects. But if there is a wide disparity in national strength and wealth between any two nations and the spirit of mutual love and reverence cannot be established between them, the possibility of a war between those two nations cannot be absolutely denied.

What would be the result, the Admiral asked, when a wide gulf is created in the naval strength of the two countries? He continued: "Fortunately, or unfortunately, the United States, awakened by the European war, has launched a gigantic expansion scheme of her army and navy, more importance being attached to the expansion of her navy. It seems clear that the American naval expansion program is not framed to compete with any supposed enemy but is intended simply as a defense scheme for maintaining America's position among the world powers, especially in view of the results of the European war, which has impressed the United States with the unsoundness, unreliability and uncertainty of international relationship and the frequency of misunderstanding among nations."

The officer expressed his admiration for the enthusiasm of the American people in backing the naval expansion but asserted that, when completed, it would bring about a great disparity in the naval strength of Japan and America. This might sound as alarming to the Japanese nation, but he believed it unjust and inadvisable for Japan to suspect the United States of any unfriendly intention toward Japan on account of this.

"What fool," he exclaimed, "would conceive of the United States intending to attack Japan or what fool would think that Japan has a design to invade the United States? However, it is most important to both countries that they should strive to maintain the peace between themselves and the peace of the Pacific by solidifying their respective naval strength lest they should be slighted by each other as well as by other nations. Therefore, Japan should steadily increase her navy."

If, he declared, the undesirable crops up the game must be placed on Japan as the destroyer of peace, because of her negligence of "preparedness." He concluded: "History illustrated how many weak military powers have broken the silver cordon of peace between nations in the past. The Japanese people should be ashamed of their neglect of necessary preparations, when they realize how devoted and loyal the Americans are for maintaining the cause of peace."

EXHIBITS LUNGS AS ARGUMENT AGAINST SMOKE

CHICAGO, March 22.—A gruesome exhibit—two human lungs, one of a babe and the other of a city bred adult—was presented to the council committee health as an argument for the suppression of the smoke nuisance which had burdened Chicago for years. The infant's lung was of a pinkish tinge. The adult's lung was gray and dingy and its cells were clogged with particles of soot.

"These lungs," said Dr. W. O. Hance, chairman of the committee, "clearly show the result of the smoke nuisance in Chicago."

PR. RATE COURT

In the estate of B. F. Ragdale, the report and amended inventory were approved.

In the estate of David Angel, final report was filed and the estate declared closed.

In the estate of Mary D. Kershaw, the petition was allowed to sell real estate to pay debts.

In the estate of Charles Holley, letters of administration were ordered to issue to George Holley and bond fixed in the sum of $1,200.

In the estate of Stephen Ridder, the final report was approved and the estate declared closed.

SPECIAL TAX NOTICE

Notice is hereby given, to all persons interested,

That the City Council of the City of Jacksonville, Illinois, having ordered the roadway of that part of North Church street in said City beginning at the north line of West State street and running thence North to a point Twenty (20) inches South of the South rail of the tracks of the Wabash Railroad company, be paved with three (3) inches of tarvia macadam surface, with curbing and drains, the same to be of the same width as the present pavement, together with catch basins and storm water inlets as shown on plans and specifications on file in the office of the City Clerk; The Ordinance for the same being on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City, and said City having applied to the County Court of Morgan county, Illinois, for the confirmation of the assessment of a special tax to pay the cost of said improvement according to the benefits, and an assessment therefor having been made and returned to said Court, the final hearing thereon will be had on the 9th day of April, A. D. 1917, at 9 o'clock a. m., or as soon thereafter as the business of the court will permit, and all persons desiring so to do may file objections in said Court before said date, and may appear on said hearing and make their defense.

It is Further Provided by Said Ordinance, that said assessment shall be collected in ten (10) installments, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, as provided by law.

Dated at Jacksonville, Illinois, this 20th day of March, A. D. 1917.

Commissioner Appointed to make said Assessment,

HOLD STERNBERG FOR FURTHER EXAMINATION

Prisoner Will Be Arraigned This Afternoon on Charge of Having Caused the Death of Mrs. Elsie Lee Hilair

New York, March 22.—Benjamin Sternberg was remanded to the Tombs prison for 24 hours late today by coroner Riordan to await a further examination upon the charge of having caused the death of Mrs. Elsie Lee Hilair who was found dead in a room in the Martin Hotel March 16. He will be arraigned again tomorrow afternoon.

Two separate complaints were prepared before the coroner was convinced there was sufficient evidence against Sternberg to warrant holding him even temporarily. The attorney for the accused urged that he be sent to the Tombs instead of to the second branch detective bureau because, he declared, the police would not let him sleep and insisted upon questioning him constantly.

The affidavit charging Sternberg with the murder of Mrs. Hilair alleged that witnesses had been found who saw Sternberg leave a subway train at the Grand Central station on March 15 with a woman answering her description that clothing similar to that worn by the woman seen with the accused had been in the hotel room occupied by Mrs. Hilair; that Sternberg had admitted that he met her by appointment on March 15 and rode with her from Brooklyn in the subway, altho he previously had denied it, and that the police possessed other evidence which could not be disclosed. Altho Mrs. Hilair's body was not found until 11 p. m., she is supposed to have been strangled late Thursday afternoon.

U. S. FIRST NATION TO RECOGNIZE RUSSIA

PETROGRAD, March 22.—Via London.—The United States is the first nation to recognize formally the new government of Russia. Ambassador Francis made a preliminary call this morning on foreign minister Milukoff immediately upon the receipt of instructions from the state department at Washington. This afternoon, accompanied by his staff including the naval and military attaches, he went to the Marinsky Palace, where the council of ministers was assembled, made the formal recognition and presented congratulations and felicitations on behalf of the United States.

Announce Recognition

Washington, March 22.—Formal and full recognition by the United States of the new government of Russia was announced tonight at the state department. The silence which has been observed at the department concerning the events in Russia was broken when officials learned that the news of Ambassador Francis' official welcoming of the new regime had been received in press despatches.

FRENCH TERM AMERICA THEIR NEW ALLIES

PARIS, March 22.—"Hurrah for our new allies!" says L. Marcelin, a well known writer in L'Albion today. This is the note taken generally by the French press toward the United States.

The Temps in a sober review of the recent injuries the Americans have suffered at the hands of Germany, says:

"Thus goes on in perfect calm the thoughtful evolution that has led the United States from neutrality which seemed her only possible course during two years to the very threshold of a state of war. It is inappreciable that this evolution was accomplished without our having done anything artificial or fictitious to provoke or accelerate it. It is virtually the American conscience that has thought and found its way. It is the American conscience that has spoken in the voice of President Wilson. Never has a more solemn verdict broken German insolence."

TO ORGANIZE AMERICAN PATRIOTIC SOCIETY

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Sir Herbert B. Ames, member of the Canadian parliament and organizer of the Canadian Patriotic Society, which, by providing for families of the war-aided material in the enlistment of 500,000 troops, will speak at a public meeting here next week at which plans for organizing a similar committee in the United States if need should come will be discussed.

Rear-Admiral Wainwright, retired, has consented to become chairman of the American committee which is being organized under the auspices of the Navy League after consultation with the navy department.

The Canadian committee undertook to raise $10,000,000 to care for the families of men who volunteered for the Canadian continent. It already has raised $3,000,000 for the wives and dependents of troops who went abroad. It is acknowledged that many recruits would not have volunteered had they not been assured of care of those left behind.

PLEDGES WISCONSIN'S SUPPORT

Madison, Wis., March 22.—The senate in executive session today unanimously adopted a resolution pledging for the people of Wisconsin unqualified and loyal support to the government to protect itself and its citizens in the present crisis. The resolution took the place of one offered by Senator Bennett censuring LaFollette. LaFollette's name is not mentioned in the resolution as adopted.

SPECIAL EXPLANATION OF TANLAC BEGINS IN THIS CITY TOMORROW

Expert Will Establish Headquarters at Coover & Shreve's at 9 O'clock Saturday Morning and Meet the Local Public Daily During Indefinite Period.

The special introduction of Tanlac in Jacksonville will begin at Coover & Shreve's at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The Tanlac expert, who has been in the city since Monday will establish his headquarters at Coover & Shreve's East Side Store at that time. He will remain in the city an indefinite period and will meet the public daily.

Every indication points to the fact that in Jacksonville as everywhere, Tanlac will be well received. Already many people have called at Coover & Shreve's and asked about the new medicine.

"The advance interest people are showing in Tanlac points to the fact that we will be very successful here," the Tanlac expert said yesterday. "It is surprising how quickly the people of any community learn that Tanlac is different from other proprietary medicines."

"In many Illinois cities and towns Tanlac has already been introduced, and, as is the case everywhere, the people quickly learned the value of Tanlac in cases of stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, nervousness, and the like. In Elgin, Rockford, Galesburg, and hundreds of smaller towns over Illinois, Tanlac has gained great popularity. "It is my firm belief that Tanlac will soon become as popular in Jacksonville as it has everywhere."

NEW PLEASURES COME FOR BELLEVILLE MAN

Belleville, Ill., March 22.—"Before I tried this new medicine, Tanlac, everything I ate made me sick. Now I'm enjoying three hearty meals every day and what I eat agrees with me perfectly and is digested properly," George Diehl, 17 S. Washington street, this city, said on March 8.

"After every meal my stomach would bloat and swell up and cause me a lot of suffering. Tanlac went right after this trouble and now I'm never bothered with bloating. I can eat anything I care for and nothing hurts me."

"LIKE NEW NOW," WOMAN SAYS

East St. Louis, Ill., March 22.—"I'm so much stronger now and feel so much better since taking Tanlac that I am able to do all my household work and I could do very little work before," Mrs. A. Green, this city, said on March 1.

"I'm just like a different person in every way. I can eat anything I care for now and everything agrees with me. I'm not bothered now with gas in my stomach."

WOMAN IS REFRESHED IN THE MORNING NOW

Mrs. Guenther Formerly Felt Worn Out On Arising

Gives Tanlac Credit for Change—Benefits Came Short Time After Beginning Use of the Master Medicine, She Says.

Coatsburg, Ill., March 22.—Many women get up in mornings feeling tired and worn out and are scarcely able to drag around through the day. Mrs. Charles F. Guenther, of this city, was in this condition until recently and she now believes she did the very best thing to obtain relief—she took Tanlac.

"My stomach was out of order, indigestion bothering me," Mrs. Guenther said. "Why I could hardly do the cooking. The smell of foods had a sickening effect on me. I had no appetite and none of the food I forced myself to eat had the right taste. I got so I couldn't sleep at night and would get up in mornings weak and all tired out."

"I tried medicine after medicine in an attempt to gain relief but with no results. When I saw Tanlac advertised, however, I decided to try once more and I want to say that the benefits this medicine has brought me came as a big surprise. In just a few days I began to feel better. My appetite improved and I began to eat with a relish. I am not restless now and I sleep soundly and peacefully all through the night and get up in mornings feeling refreshed and rested."

"I want everybody to know what Tanlac did in my case and I'm only too glad to recommend this medicine to all my friends and others who are bothered as I was."

AGENTS WANTED

Exclusive agency for Tanlac is awarded one druggist in every city, town and village. Agents are wanted and are to be appointed in every city, town and village in Illinois within the next ninety days. Druggists are invited to write, wire or phone C. H. Bailey, 414 Saks Building, Indianapolis, Ind.

"SO HAPPY NOW" ELGIN WOMAN SAYS

Health Tanlac Brought Mrs. Truax New Pleasure

SEES JOYS IN DINNERS

Eats With a Real Relish Now Any Kind of Food She Cares For

BENEFITS CAME QUICKLY

Elgin, Ill., March 22.—Mrs. Mary Truax, well known woman who lives at Oakwood, near this city, declares she is so happy because Tanlac brought back her health that she wants to tell everybody about the Master Medicine.

"I feel just like a different woman now and I'm so happy because of the change in my condition," Mrs. Truax said recently.

"For a long time I have suffered from stomach trouble and catarrh," she continued. "The smell of food had such a sickening effect on me that I could hardly prepare a meal and, of course, eating was almost out of the question. I would have to force myself to eat and then the food would not agree with me. I didn't sleep well and I'd get up in mornings feeling weak and tired out."

"I read about Tanlac in the newspapers and decided to give it a trial. I didn't have much faith in it though, for I had tried numerous other medicines without being benefited. That's why I was so surprised, I guess, when I began to feel better a few days later. My appetite improved and I found that I was able to eat with a relish. I can eat anything I care for now and I enjoy my meals to the fullest extent. I sleep as peacefully at night as a baby now and get up in mornings feeling refreshed and rested."

"I'm so happy that I want everybody to know about Tanlac. I recommend Tanlac to all my friends and others who are bothered as I was."

"IMPROVED EVERY WAY," RIDOTT WOMAN ASSERTS

Freeport, Ill., March 22.—"I even resorted to an operation and tried medicine after medicine in my attempts to get rid of stomach trouble but nothing ever helped me until I took Tanlac," Mrs. Lottie Bonn, of Ridott, eight miles northeast of Freeport, said on March 1.

"I'm almost like a new woman since taking this medicine. Tanlac has placed my stomach in excellent condition. I can eat anything I care for now without any gas or pains in my stomach afterward. Everything I eat seems to agree with me perfectly and is digested properly. I'm improved in every way."
